WILL ROGERS SAYS HOME STATE 'HEX' IS PUT ON GRUNDY

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. Nov. 15. — Grundy wouldn't name the states that were back-ward, because the voodoo from the town of York, in his own state, had him "hexed." An advancement will tell. Prosperity this winter is going to be enjoyed by everybody that is fortunate enough to get into the poor farm.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWCASTLE OBSERVES

Heavy rains during the past few days have raised the stage of the Shenango river to the six-foot level, which was attained during the night. The Neshannock is not as high, in proportion, having a lesser drainage area.

Few airplanes were in the air yesterday. The atmosphere was so heavy with fog that planes were forced to remain on the ground. Even the air mail planes couldn't make the trip through this district.

Looks like a real football day is being ordered for tomorrow. Weather conditions today are fine. The special train from Greensburg will arrive in this city at 11:25, according to revised schedule given by the railroad company. The train will leave for Greensburg at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in New Castle. A hundred high school girls will be on the streets selling poppies for the benefit of the Legion. Buy a poppy.

Special train bringing the Greensburg football delegation will arrive in this city over the Pennsylvania lines about noon. The delegation will parade from the station to The Castle, which will be headquarters there, according to advance reports. The Greensburg band will head the parade.

Workmen are today completing the final work on the East Brook to Volant road. This rapid progress assures that Volant will be out of the mud this winter, and will be within easy access of New Castle. The construction of this three-mile stretch of the East Brook to Volant road has been about as fast a construction job as has ever been witnessed in this county.

This is the final day of grace allowed to operate an auto without an official inspection sticker. Highway officers will make arrests of auto drivers whose cars are not properly labeled, after today, it is stated.

Another big day is on the program for Leesburgh tomorrow. The formal dedication of the new Presbyterian church will take place. All day program will attract many.

Bessemer Garage Reported Robbed

According to the report made to the police here last night, a Bessemer garage was robbed about 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, by one of a party of two girls and a man, apparently Italians, who stopped at the garage. Later it was reported, the proprietor of the garage had followed and caught these people and recovered his money.

One of the number is said to have opened the cash register and taken the money, while the man in charge was busy working. They were traveling in a 1927 model Buick bearing Ohio license H 81-853.

BUTLER POLICE ASK LOCAL ASSISTANCE

The Butler police department last night asked the local police authorities to be on the lookout for a 1929 model Ford roadster in which four men were riding. The Butler authorities asked the authorities here to apprehend the men and the car, one of the men, Morry Cooper, being wanted on a serious charge.

Seek To Block Adjournment Of Tariff Session

New Militant Group Of Republicans Align Selves With Democratic-Insurgent Forces

HOPE FOR PASSAGE OF TARIFF BILL

Will Battle To Keep Senate In Session Day And Night Until Bill Is Enacted

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Splitting the Republican party into three factions and bolting their regular leaders, a militant group of twenty regular Republican senators joined hands with the insurgent group today to carry out President Hoover's request for passage of the new tariff bill through the senate before the special session ends.

This new alignment, aided by a handful of Democrats, blocked every attempt to fix a definite date for adjourning the special session. They ignored the regular leadership and announced a determination to keep the senate in session day and night until it enacts the tariff. Their purpose was to carry out the request of the president, made last week for passage of the bill within two weeks.

Called "Stalwarts," the new Republican "Stalwarts" were led by Senators Vandenberg, of Mich., Hastings, of Del., and Fess, of Ohio, they organized their group. It was learned, at a dinner party given by Senator Kean, (R) of N. J., and included in their number, Allen, Glenn, Goff, Gillett, Goldsborough, Hatfield, Herbert, Metcalf, Oddie, Paterson, Sackett, Hastings, Thomas, Ida, Townsend, Walcott and Waterman, besides (Continued On Page Two)

Concrete Work On Volant Road Finished Today

Contracting Firm Will Complete Task Regardless Of Weather Encountered

PULASKI ROAD IS ALSO NEARLY DONE

Strenuous efforts are being put forth today by contractors in charge of the Volant and Pulaski road projects to complete the task of laying the remaining stretches of concrete which remain on these two roads.

Only 314 feet of concrete remained to be poured on the Volant road and the Holmes Construction company which has the contract has made all preparations to finish the task today regardless of the brand of weather encountered.

The mud has been scraped from the road and sand and ashes placed over the top making a suitable base for the concrete. All is in readiness therefore to finish the task and by nightfall the last of the concrete will be in place.

Pulaski Road Nearly Done.
But a little over 800 feet of concrete remains to be poured on the Pulaski road but unfavorable weather has prevented the completion of this road which it had been believed would be finished before the week was up. The forms are all in place and if the weather continues favorable today as much of this will be laid as possible. It is possible that the work can be completed by Saturday night if it does not rain any more.

This will assure residents of the two communities affected a hard road over which they may travel this winter.

When the hospital was thrown open to the public Mr. Rentz offered $10 each for the first boy and girl baby born in the institution, and $20 each for the first set of girl twins, first set of girl and boy twins and first set of boy twins.

Young Willocks And His Bride Are Happy

Heir To Fortune Of Some $120,000 Happily Wedded To Norwegian Girl

Will Visit His Mother And Father, But May Not Take Former Employee To His Home

(International News Service)
SYOSSET, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The doors of a magnificent estate will swing open today to admit the 22-year-old youth who forsook his splendor to marry his mother's Norwegian chambermaid, but whether his bride will be admitted also is a question.

William J. Willocks, Jr., presumptive heir to a fortune estimated at more than $120,000,000, was to pay a visit to his father and mother, temporarily leaving behind the $8 a week "honeymoon room" over a store in Oyster Bay, near here, which he and his bride have inhabited since their sensational marriage.

Willocks declined to divulge the purpose of his visit, or to reveal whether his wife would accompany him. While the elder Willocks says he has "forgiven" his son, he added that he "would not know the girl if he saw her."

Are Very Happy.
In the meantime, young Willocks puttered about an ancient car on which he and his servant bride are to leave on a honeymoon trip to Florida next week. In overalls and grease-stained, Willocks has spent hours every day priming the car for the journey. He is transforming it into a little houseboat on wheels, and declares himself happier in the role of a carpenter than in that of the indolent heir to a colossal fortune.

"We are very happy together," Willocks said today, "but there are too many people bothering us, and we're going to get away to Florida as rapidly as we can."

"I am going to be cook," said the bride, the former Adelaide Ingebreten, daughter of a fishing family of Stravanger, Norway.

Mrs. Willocks revealed the courtship of the young couple was far from gay, and that he did not shower upon her the entertainments and gifts that the income from his own $700,000 trust fund would have permitted him.

"We never went to parties or night clubs," the pretty, blonde haired girl declared. "We went to the movies occasionally, and the first time we went out together it was to a movie of 'Abe's Irish Rose' at a place near Syosset."

Coalition Will Support Tariff Rates Of 1922

Democratic-Insurgent Republican Coalition To Favor Fordney-McCumber Law

SENATOR SIMMONS ANNOUNCES POLICY

Do Not Want To Be Held Responsible For Upsetting Business Of Nation

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Democratic-Insurgent Republican coalition of the Senate has decided to maintain the high level of industrial rates carried in the Fordney-McCumber tariff law of 1922 and thus protect business against injurious tariff legislation, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic tariff leader, announced today after the opening moonlight session last night.

The decision is the coalition's answer to the charge of Republican leaders in the Senate that in attempting to give agriculture parity under the tariff it is attempting to drag down the country's gigantic industrial fabric.

General Agreement
Simmons announced he had been discussing the new program for several days with Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, Norris (R) of Nebraska and other powers in the coalition, and that there is general agreement on the policy.

"We are not going to give anyone a chance to say we are responsible for upsetting the business of the country," said Simmons. "We will raise some of the 1922 industrial rates—have done so already—and we will lower some of them, but the 1922 law will be the basis of the industrial schedules."

Will Not Revise
"We will not retain these rates because we approve them, but because this session of Congress was not called to revise them. This is not a proper occasion to revise them. Let those rates remain for the present until we can have ample time during a regular session of Congress to go carefully into them and to revise them as they ought to be revised—downward, not upward."

The coalition plans to give relief to agriculture and to aid "sick industries" and thus conform to the call of President Hoover, Simmons said.

The announcement came as the Senate was beginning its agricultural schedules, with "farm bloc" members getting generous increases in the tariff upon farm products all along the line.

Predict Rates Boost
Accepting the statement of House leaders that it will demand a higher tariff level than the Senate, the coalition leaders believe in the end a tariff bill will be written with agricultural rates much higher than at present and with some increases for industry. The great stumbling blocks in conference, they say, will be the export debenture and the flexible tariff provisions.

That its announced intention of shooting agricultural schedules upward was no idle boast, the coalition (Continued On Page Two)

Deny Page Will Get Appointment

New York Democrat Not To Be Named Assistant Secretary Of State

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Official denial was made at the white house today of a published story that Arthur Wilson Page of New York, a Democrat, is to be appointed assistant secretary of state.

Page is a son of the late Walter Hines Page, ambassador to Great Britain in the Wilson administration. The rumors of Page's appointment probably arose over the fact that he will accompany Secretary of State Stimson to the London naval conference in a personal capacity. Stimson and Page were old friends, and Page is to go to London as the secretary's personal aide and companion.

Parent-Teacher Convention Here Saturday To Be Poppy Day

County Session Is Held At George Washington Junior High

PRESIDENT PEARCE EXPECT TO RAISE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER CONSIDERABLE SUM

Representatives of eight different Parent-Teacher chapters in Lawrence county from the different schools assembled at the George Washington junior high school Thursday afternoon and evening for the first county conference since the Lawrence county council was formally organized last spring.

Presidents and other members of the Shenango Union, Arthur McGill, Highland, Moravia, Rose, avenue, West Side and Oak street schools were among those in attendance, Shenango being the youngest organization of the council and Oak street the oldest.

Featuring the afternoon service were talks by the various presidents who in short but interesting resumés related the activities of their own chapter since they were formed.

Miss Alice M. Sterling city librarian also spoke during the afternoon using "Children's Books" as her theme.

Miss Sterling told the parents of the value of reading.

Librarian Speaks.
During the course of her address the librarian also mentioned the county library project which may be proposed. She stated that while actual establishment of a county library which would lend books to county schools may be somewhat in the distance, nevertheless she is of the belief that it will be opened eventually.

Mrs. Earl Sweezy, county president occupied the presiding chair during the afternoon session. It was 2:30 p. m. when she pounded the gavel calling the first annual county council of the P. T. A. to order.

A selection by the George Washington orchestra led by John E. Patton preceded the gavel and when the president had formally opened the session the audience rose and sang "America." Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third U. P. church offered the invocation.

A series of P. T. A. songs were sung at numerous times during the afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Owens George Washington musical instructor as director.

Greetings from the county officers were then extended by Mrs. Sweezy, who heartily welcomed every member and asked for their cooperation in order that Lawrence county's first P. T. A. council might be a success.

Bandit Gang Invades Home; Robs All Guests

Jewels And Money Taken From Fashionable Guests At Buffalo Affair

LOOT VALUE MAY REACH TO $350,000

Seven Bandits In Gang Entering J. L. Carson Home Last Night

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 15.—A State-wide search was launched early today for a daring gang of seven armed bandits who invaded the home of John L. Carson, Jr., in Snyder, a fashionable suburb of Buffalo, held up eighteen socially prominent men and women guests, and made off with money, jewelry and clothing valued at between $200,000 and $350,000.

At an early hour this morning, a full check-up had not been made of the jewels stolen, but a general alarm had been sent out for the apprehension of the robbers. Due to the fact all seven bandits were masked, the task of locating them will be difficult.

Stripped Of Jewels
The victims of the robbery were prominent persons from Buffalo, New York and other cities. They had gathered at the Carson home to attend a dinner and dance in honor of Miss Eleanor Cameron, of Cameron, Texas, daughter of Mrs. Howard Cole, of Park avenue, New York.

She was one of the principal sufferers from the bandits' depredations. Valuable gems were stripped from her neck and arms.

Another heavy loser was Mrs. Ray Van Cleaf, of New York, from whose neck the bandits seized a triple string of perfectly-matched pearls, said to be worth $250,000.

The eighteen guests were taken in the dining room when the bandits entered. (Continued On Page Two)

Secretary Good Is Improving

Condition Is Somewhat Improved Physicians Report Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Considerable improvement in the condition of Secretary of War James W. Good, who is fighting desperately for life following an appendicitis operation was reported by his physicians at 10:30 a. m. today.

Last night the war secretary lapsed into semi-consciousness and it was feared that he would not survive another day, but he rallied and after examination this morning the physicians reported "definite improvement."

His condition however, is still very serious.

This morning the patient took his first nourishment since the operation on Wednesday.

The improvement was ascribed to the fact that Good was able to get some sound sleep during the night, from 9 to 12 and from 2:30 to 5:30.

Oh these slangy, tangy phrases that the nation has to hear, senseless, silly, repetitions, grating on the nerve and ear, but there's one which soon I hope will pass ere many months are through, it is this, when to some neighbor I remark, he says, "see you." Smart it may be and collegiate, jazzy, modern, and all that, but if much I hear it I will, sock somebody beneath the hat. Right beneath the well known mustache, sock him till he's black and blue, if somebody hears my story, then retalates "see you." What a phrase to start one fighting, it's a modern slangy line, but "see me" n gets my nanny, weather's clear and jiffy-nine.

Robbers Enter Bailey's Store

Auto Accessories To Value Of Several Hundred Dollars Taken

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO BREAK SAFE OPEN

Bailey's Auto Supply company store, 37 South Jefferson street, was entered some time last night in an attempt made to open the safe, and automobile accessories to the value of several hundred dollars taken.

The indicated purpose of the robbery was to secure money. Pooled in this, the thieves took automobile accessories of various kinds valued at between $300 and $400, according to M. R. Bates of the company.

That the place had been entered was discovered at 7 o'clock this morning by M. R. Bates, when he opened up the store. The police were notified and Officers M. J. Young and Lockard answered and made the preliminary investigation. Detective Logan and Officer Lynch made the detailed investigation later.

The officers found that entrance had been effected through a rear cellar window. Getting into the cellar, they found the regular cellar door held down by the weight of chains that prevented them getting in that way.

They, however, found a small trap door, which was also weighed down by some chains, which they managed to open and get into the store proper.

An effort was then evidently made to hammer off the safe combination, but the robbers were unable to get away with this. The combination and door are in a badly battered condition.

The merchandise was then evidently removed. The police state that the exit was by the same way the thieves entered. They also state that it was a young man's job and hardly that of professional thieves.

proved last night with the opening night session.

More than a dozen increases allowed by the Senate finance committee were approved between 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. Progress was brisk, speeches were brief, and general criticism was directed at those senators absenting themselves from the session.

Rates on whole milk, condensed and dried, increases were approved. The higher House rate on malted milk was accepted over a committee proposal to slash it, and increased duties on cheese, chickens, geese, turkeys and guineas were voted.

The Brookhart proposal to place a 20-cent duty on oats, a four cents increase over the committee figure of 16 cents was defeated, however, the committee proposal being accepted. House rates on rice, slashed by the Senate committee, were restored, and the three-tenths of a cent rate fixed on frozen berries adopted. Soy bean oil cake and soy bean oil cake meal were taken from the free list and a duty imposed as recommended by the finance committee, too.

tered and told them to throw up their hands. Believing them to be acquaintances playing a prank, Mrs. Gibson Gardiner, one of the guests, attempted to snatch the mask from the face of one of the robbers. She was promptly knocked under the table, but was not seriously injured.

Ransack Home

The action convinced the other guests of the stern reality of the hold-up, and all stood up while five of the bandits went around the table with drawn guns, snatching all jewels and demanding all money be handed over.

In the meantime, the two other bandits had raided the upstairs bedrooms, stealing fur-coats, jewels and other valuables. The bandits took everything in sight, including stockings, watches, cuff links, ear-rings, bracelets and necklaces.

Among the victims of the sensational robbery were W. Hamilton Gardner, well-known broker and amateur golfer and Courtland Van Cleaf, whom Miss Cameron is engaged to marry.

the leaders. Most of them are serving their first terms in the senate. This militant band, allying itself with the insurgents solely on the issue of adjournment, planned to keep the senate in session day and night until the bill passes.

Very Enthusiastic. Their very enthusiasm gave some indication they might succeed, since the insurgents have announced a like purpose. It was even hinted the measure might be sent to conference by the senate before November 23, the date fixed by the leaders for adjournment, thus allowing the senate a week's rest before the new session starts December 2.

These Republican "Stalwarts" have gone so far as to circulate and sign a petition, pledging their united attendance at night sessions. This was a clear rebellion against the leadership of Senator Jones (R) of Wash., who is acting floor leader, and Senator Reed (R) of Pa., who has dominated the Republican tariff wars. Both Jones and Reed favored adjournment Nov. 23 and opposed night sessions.

Activity Draws Rebuke

Their activity drew a rebuke from Senator Harrison (D) of Miss., who chided them on bolting their leaders. The group won the approbation of Senator Reed Smoot (D) of Utah, who is fathering the tariff bill. Smoot announced he was willing to stay at the helm day and night "if it kills me" until the bill is passed.

Senators, who favored an adjournment, based their attitude on a desire to get some rest before the regular session starts. Senator Royal S. Copeland (D) of New York, noted physician, asserted senators were "killing themselves" by overwork on the tariff bill.

Copeland sponsored a resolution, directing the senate to "lay aside" the tariff bill tomorrow. In effect, this would be an adjournment. He hoped for a vote on the resolution today.

Officers Locate Barrel Of Liquor

Find It Finally By Tearing Out Part Of Cellar Wall, They Report

Tony Mangieri of 14 Maitland street planned well but failed to count on the noses of Lieutenant Hillers and Officers John Young, Moore, McKee and Thompson, when it comes to ferreting out the hiding places of liquor.

These officers visited the home of Mangieri last night armed with a search warrant and searched the place most diligently.

They finally tore out part of the cellar wall on the east side of the home and came on a 25-gallon barrel of moonshine. They also found two barrels in which there was wine.

Mangieri was this morning taken before Alderman Mantz where he was charged with violation of the Snyder act by Chief of Police C. C. Horner.

Pointing out that, after 50 years' existence, women's colleges still have less than one-tenth the endowment of men's colleges, heads of seven eastern colleges for women met in New York to pool their interests to bring achievements before the public, Charles Evans Hughes being the chief speaker. Among the college heads taking an active leadership in the movement are Dr. William Allan Neilson, of Smith, upper left; Miss Mary E. Woolley, of Mount Holyoke, upper right; Miss Virginia C. students under Miss Owens' direction then sang for the audience.

At this point Mrs. Sweesy announced the different presidents from the eight schools represented, explaining that each would describe their home activities. Because the Shenango chapter is the youngest I. E. George was called upon first to speak of his.

Mr. George holds the distinction of being the lone man president of a Lawrence county P. T. A.

Chapters Respond

Others who responded when called upon were the following: Union—Mrs. W. G. Wilkins. Arthur McGill—Mrs. E. L. Thompson. Highland—Mrs. J. E. Elliott. Moravia—Mrs. J. A. Long. Rose Avenue—Mrs. M. R. Bates. West Side—Mrs. C. O. Davis. Oak Street—Mrs. R. H. Montgomery.

Interspersing the time between the Highland and Moravia reports were the selections rendered by a group of 9A2 girls under Miss Owens' leadership.

The parents also witnessed a play entitled "The Uninvited Member" in which Washington students took part. Miss Hazel Toepfer of the Washington faculty directed it. The play was enacted in a fine manner and proved most entertaining.

More P. T. A. songs were sung and then a motion picture "Too Many Pounds" was shown to the delegates.

Officers' Reports

Following this came the reports of the secretary, treasurer and chairman of the by-laws committee. The secretary, Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas read the minutes of the organization meeting of the county session while Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh reported the state of the treasury. Mrs. Clarence Davis, chairman of the by-laws committee made her report and stated that her group had prepared council by-laws in conformity with the state form. They were not read at this time on the suggestion of Mrs. Davis but a copy will be sent to each chapter.

A question box period featured as the closing number.

It had been the intent of county officers to have a state P. T. A. leader in attendance to conduct this but a board meeting yesterday required the attendance of each. Mrs. Sweesy led the discussion on the several questions that were raised.

Banquet Well Attended

At the dinner in the evening there were 130 parents and teachers present. Dr. McLeod M. Pearce of Geneva college was the principal speaker, basing his address on the valuable work that P. T. A.'s accomplish.

Dr. C. C. Gron superintendent of city schools presided as toastmaster and in a few choice remarks urged cooperation between the school and home. The superintendent then introduced Dr. Pearce.

Dr. Pearce Speaks

The Geneva president spoke of the problems of raising children, stating how much easier it can be made when the school and home closely cooperate. He mentioned the rapid and almost astonishing advancement in education, citing numerous illustrations of his own experience. Interesting to all was the one where he pictured his own school career in a modern schoolhouse.

At the close of Dr. Pearce's address Miss Mary Harvard favored with a vocal solo with Mrs. H. P. Meehan as accompanist. Music and P. T. A. songs during the evening were led by R. E. Johns with Mrs. Meehan at the piano.

County Superintendent J. C. Syling made the closing remarks, summing up what previous speakers had said. Mr. Syling sounded as the key of his remarks the fact that trained teachers are needed as well as trained mothers. He recalled that it was but only a few years ago that teachers were required to have no training whatsoever or at least that which is expected of them today.

In attendance as guest last night was Rev. Samuel J. Crowe of this city a former president of Geneva college.

"All right, my young lady, I'll do that. I'll be waiting to buy it at eight o'clock."

"Thanks, Mayor," replied the young lady with a smile as she left his desk to rejoin the class.

Anti-Kiss League In Russian Towns

"Kiss Peril" Takes Place Of "Yellow Peril" With Party Leaders

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 15.—Moscow's latest edict is "Thou shalt not kiss" according to travelers recently returned from Russia, who state that the Soviet chiefs not content with abolishing church, crown, marriage—and other institutions beloved by man and woman—are now conducting a furious campaign against the kiss.

It seems that the "Kiss Peril" has taken the place of the "Yellow Peril," party leaders declaring that hygiene must take precedence of politics and that the dispute with China can wait.

An anti-kiss league has been formed with branches in every town, large and small. Placards exhort the populace to "Exercise this shameful and fearful custom," "Down with kissing" is shouted in the streets, and the youth of the land is being taught the dangers of ignorance.

The postal services have also taken a hand. Every stamp now bears, not only the portrait of Lenin, but also the government slogan, "This be- fore you kiss; each kiss costs 40,000 bacteria."

This campaign comes as a special shock in London, it seems, because it used to be the custom of the country to embrace relations and friends on every conceivable occasion.

THRIFT DISCARDED?

ANNOUNCEMENT by the American Bankers Association that savings accounts in the nation's banks, after a rapid and unbroken rise for 20 years, declined $193,305,000 during the last statistical year, has started the nation to asking: Why?

Is it the speculating fever? Is it due to less prosperity? Is the extension of the deferred payment plan at fault? Has a Hooverized nation forgotten already the lessons in thrift taught by the great economist, Calvin Coolidge?

An explanation offered by the bankers, who should know something of the cause, is the national mania for buying stocks. There indubitably is something in this theory, but before Yankeeedom developed that mania it had to overcome that traditional trait called Yankee thrift.

Twenty years ago the thrift habit was regarded as a virtue, but more recently it has been challenged by high-power salesmanship, installment buying, and applied economics. When Coolidge learned thrift, the purpose of life was to accumulate money. Today, the purpose of life seems to be to make money that one may spend it wisely, on the theory that consumption on a large scale promotes production on a large, which spells prosperity!

Spending has taken its place beside hoarding in the catalog of virtues, but whether the falling off in savings accounts represents a decisive defeat for thrift and a victory for spendthriftiness remains to be seen.

SIXTY-EIGHT BILLION

The total income of the American people last year is estimated at $68,000,000,000. Mere mention of such a vast income is bound to provoke in many quarters the query: "Where does the money go?" Within limits the statistician has answered the question.

Of the national income half went to retail stores, $18,000,000,000 went for food, tobacco and soft drinks, $750,000,000 was spent in barber shops, $2,000,000,000 was spent for automobiles and motor trucks, and more billions went for federal, state and local taxes and still more for the construction of homes and other buildings.

It has also been figured out that the average American each year spends $2.58 for diamonds, 22 cents for dentifrices, $4.15 for soft drinks, six cents for ink, $1.30 for pickles, $3 for ice cream, but only 70 cents for eggs, $3.75 for toilet soap, $1.10 for books, $27 for joy riding, $1.29 for religion, $5 for jewelry, 15 cents for art, 11 cents for health service, 65 cents for coffins, $10 for public schools, $1.85 for shirts, $45 for food luxuries, and eight cents for salaries for college professors.

On the strength of these figures persons contemplating going into business or entering a profession will avoid for financial reasons ink manufacture, book publishing, college professorship, art and health service.

This American budget explains why the Russian communists and their many socialist predecessors have never been able to sell their Utopian schemes to the American people.

CENSORSHIP

Time and again it has been proven that the most effective advertising for the theater and literature is censorship or threatened censorship. Arrest the producer of a show with a reputation for daring and you sell out his box office for weeks in advance. Censor a book and you keep the publisher's press busy producing new editions. Several shows of the current New York theatrical season are being prosecuted by the censoring element and all are playing to standing-room-only houses. Since the war several novels were blacklisted by church organizations, but all were soon counted among the ten best sellers. If nothing more, this proves that an aye and nay vote on the question of censorship would find some nays among the electorship.

The police have long exercised the censorship of the theater in a majority of the cities and towns of the nation so little has been heard in the state legislatures of drama censorship. On the other hand, there has been little censorship of books—perhaps the volunteers in the corporal's guard of censors are ignorant of the contents of the books—but the bill providing for the censoring of books is as much a fixture of the average state legislature as the speaker and sergeant-at-arms. Once upon a time these perennial bills were granted the honor of being defeated by the house. Now they die in committee.

There may be books which people should not read, but most people desire to decide for themselves whether they shall read them. It is plain that those who would purge or prohibit a book have already read it. But the book that deserves suppression, is rare. The proportion among modern publications is small compared with that at all times in the past, except, perhaps, in those brief periods when pious zealots succeeded in suppressing all printing and enslaving speech and thought.

MORALITY IS RELATIVE

In a natural state, as men of sense agree, the natural thing is the moral thing. But when men outgrow jungle ethics and invented compassion and unselfishness, morality became a much more complicated business. It became and remains largely a matter of having regard for the other fellow.

By common consent, suicide is immoral. The suicide, in nearly all cases, is dodging. Yet when a man deliberately sacrifices his life to save others, which is suicide, people feel that he has been a credit to his race. The result in both cases is the same; the man is dead. But in one case his action seemed ignoble, and in the other it seemed noble because he thought only of others.

Habitual drunkenness, by common consent, is immoral. Yet if by getting drunk every day a man could render great service to society, the intemperance would seem noble regardless of what it did to the inebriate. Society frowns upon the drunk because he spends for himself the money his family needs, becomes a public nuisance and usually makes himself unfit for any useful service.

Robin Hood was a thief, and stealing isn't moral, and yet because the gay rogue divided his spoils with the poor he remains even to this moral age a popular hero.

When civilized nations appropriate to their own use the lands of a backward people, the occupation is theft and nothing less. Yet, because the world benefits, society sees nothing dishonest in the business.

This is not to argue that the end always justifies the means, but only that society, in its present imperfect state, regards as moral that which seems to contribute to its own security and happiness.

Lady With High Strikes.
Where Is The Leader?
Much About Wall St.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Recently in New York City, perhaps elsewhere, somebody has called up conspicuous citizens, saying: "This is Mr. Brisbane," adding appeals for contributions to alleged charities.

Those thus called include Mr. Taylor, chairman of United States Steel company; Mr. Woolley, head of the American Radiator company, and a number of others, including Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors.

This is to notify any citizens thus bothered that this writer does not solicit contributions to charity or anything else.

There is one fortunate thing in all the Wall Street moaning. Working men and women are not affected. They take in 60 billion dollars a year in pay, live on 40 billions and have 20 billions to spend every year for automobiles, vacuum cleaners, radio sets, talking machines, etc.

Some, unfortunately, have lost their all, many after working hard for it all their lives. But great earning power of the country is not affected, and consequently the really great SPENDING power is untouched.

The bears were happy in Wall Street Wednesday, and no wonder. Those that fought foolishly are selling even more foolishly, sacrificing valuable properties for much less than the present values in many instances.

The worst of it, from the point of view of common sense, is the fact that Wall Street apparently is without leadership.

Vicious and entirely unfounded rumors are industriously circulated by those seeking to injure values, and repeated by fools to their own injury.

What could be done by real leadership in Wall Street is difficult to say. The Federal Reserve might cut the discount rate again, which it easily could do to show that we have plenty of money. But everybody knows that.

Great industrialists could get together and use for buying their own stocks some of the money that they have been lending plentifully at 8 to 20 per cent on call loans.

The probability is, however, that the market today is like a lady having "high strikes," rattling her heels on the floor and saying "I want to die, I want to die."

The less you say to her the sooner she gets over it. Unfortunately, she never does.

Wall street will get over this, and the fools that bought without knowing why, and sold without knowing why, will turn around, after the wise men have put prices up, and buy again, when the bargains are gone.

One rumor in Wall Street—which may be true or not, and it cannot do any harm, reports at Mr. Rockefeller Wednesday put in an order to buy 1,000,000 shares of one of the Standard Oil stocks at $50 a share or better. It is said he got only 1,200 shares instead of 1,000,000.

This writer happened to see John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Wednesday morning, coming on the train from Lakewood, N. J., where he had been to see his father. Mr. Rockefeller didn't say anything about buying 1,000,000 shares of Standard Oil stocks. In fact he didn't seem interested in the stock market at all. He said, "I took an article of yours out to read to my father."

The head of one of the biggest American industries complained Wednesday of bankers. He said he "The great banker is he that can get the most fastest, when trouble comes."

However, it should be remembered that bankers have not escaped in the cracking of stock values.

The cheapest bank stocks have dropped from $200 to $4,000 a share, since the dropping began.

They will come back and go higher (Continued On Page Five)

Virginia Election A Return To Normalcy, Says Country

Success Of Regular Democracy In Old Dominion Believed To Have Removed Any Possibility Of Achieving Permanent Political Change

Success of the regular Democratic organization in the Virginia election is generally viewed as evidence that any continued devotion to the Republican party in the Old Dominion is unlikely. The 1928 vote is laid to extra-political conditions which gave President Hoover an advantage over Governor Smith. Editorial opinion in Virginia favors the theory that this year's ballot was in the nature of endorsement for the Byrd administration.

"The Democratic triumph," as analyzed by the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Ind. Dem.), "cannot be regarded in any other light than as a complete and sweeping vindication of the Byrd administration." The World News adds: "Had the Republicans of Virginia stuck to their own party and instead of making an alliance with dissimilar political elements with which they could in the long run have nothing in common, had they nominated such a man as State Chairman Angell, or one of the three Republican congressmen, or such a business man as John D. Bassett, they would not only have polled more votes, and done more to build up their party, but would have been today in a position more entitled to self-respect and the respect of their opponents."

"Aside from disclosing the emptiness of the anti-Smith, anti-Raskob cause," according to the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER (Ind. Dem.), "the election was a vindication of the Byrd administration, a rebuke to Cannonism and a repudiation of demagogic methods." A similar position is taken by the LYNCHBURG ADVANCE (Dem.), with the added conclusion that it was "a vote of confidence in the ability of John Garland Pollard, standing upon the firm foundation of past Democratic accomplishment, to carry Virginia to even greater accomplishment."

"The election, resulting in the choice of a Democrat for governor by an overwhelming majority," (think of the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR (Ind.)), "demonstrates that last year's turnover whereby the Old Dominion gave its electoral vote to Hoover, was not a party change, but a revolt against the specific Democratic candidacy." That paper sees a "return to normalcy." A similar verdict is found by the MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL (Dem.), the SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.), and the MADISON, WISCONSIN STATE JOURNAL (Ind.).

"At its first opportunity Virginia demonstrated to the nation that its departure from the bosom of the Democratic party in 1928 was but playing hooky," suggests the NEW YORK SUN (Ind.), while the RALPH NEWS AND OBSERVER (Dem.), points out that "the vote cast for Hoover last November was in reality merely a protest vote," and that "the southern Democracy is by an overwhelming majority in favor of prohibition." The CHATTANOOGA NEWS (Ind. Dem.), sees no evidence that the result was pro-Tammany, and the NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.) is convinced that "until Virginia is much more thoroughly industrialized than it now is, Republicans who try to pry it out of the Democratic column will have a hard row to hoe." The DAYTON NEWS (Ind. Dem.), also sees a "rough road to a strong Republican party in the South."

The political augurs," says the CHARLESTON EVENING POST (Ind. Dem.), "appear to agree on two certain effects of the Virginia election. First, that the hope of setting up a respectable Republican organization in the South, under the aegis of Hoover, must be and will be abandoned. Second, that Bishop James Cannon Jr. is down and out as a political boss in Virginia, and as a Republican aide in the national field." That the voters rebuked the Cannon supporters is the judgment of the DETROIT FREE PRESS (Ind.), the TULSA WORLD (Ind. Dem.), and the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.).

"Of course, the state went Democratic," advises the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT (Dem.), "for the simple reason that there was nothing to frighten the voters." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.), holds that "it is to the credit of the Old Dominion that it proved capable of putting aside the prejudices of years and casting its determining vote in state election." The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep.), sees the former Hoover supporters as "at the mourners' bench," but the BIRMINGHAM NEWS (Dem.), feels that there is "no disposition to engage in taunting these 'bolters' when they returned." One fact, it points out, is evident: "not one of these 'bolters' was nominated as a Democratic candidate for high state office."

"An attempt was made to inject national issues in the state campaign," failing, according to the KANSAS CITY STAR (Ind.), "because the issues were not real," and

"The manner of America's vulgar rich seem awful to poor people in Europe. And Europe's rich are so considerate and courteous to poor Americans! Chasing dollars; feeling vulgar and inferior when rebuked by earthly gentlemen who merely chase pounds, marks, francs, lire, zloti and yens."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE BLOOMING 'OON

The end of "Black Diamond," the poor old elephant who was sentenced to die for having killed a woman on the street was pathetic.

Probably apologetic for his bad temper, he meekly answered the call to line-up for morning parade—not knowing it was to be a parade to his own grave.

Had he been allowed to lead a natural life, the old fellow would have faithfully plied teak logs for another century in the "sludgy, sludgy creek."

The fate of the imprisoned animals in a circus is cruel beyond imagination. If the vilest wickedest gunman murderer had to live for a week in the suffering that these nervous high-strung animals go through, every reformer in the world would be believing about the outrage.

An elephant is, under normal circumstances, a gentleman as Mr. Kipling has remarked. He is intelligent-faithful and amiable in circumstances that would drive most human beings to murder. Usually with a good deal more sense than his trainer.

Take the case of "Minnie." On one occasion, "Minnie" saved the life of Miss Madge Bellamy, the movie actress. Miss Bellamy had to lie down between "Minnie's" front feet and the trainer was to tell the elephant to sit down. The trainer got drunk, and gave the wrong signal to the "fat" "Minnie," knew something was wrong and trumpeted pitifully; but the trainer jabbed the cruel elephant hook into her jaw. Miss Bellamy felt the great hulk settling on top of her and gave herself up for lost. Suddenly a long trunk went in between "Minnie's" forelegs, wrapped itself around the girl's body, and flung her out to safety as "Minnie" sank on her side with a grunt.

MEMORY
And if I shall remember
The tulips of the spring,
The Christmas each December,
The songs the children sing,
Their bits of merry laughter,
Which meant so much to me,
That's all in that hereafter
I'd keep in memory.

I do not ask to go there
With boastful tales to tell
I'd like to have them know there
This life I've loved so well.
I would recall a few things
My eyes refused to see.
The tender and the true things
Which brighten life for me.

And shall I wake from sleeping
To face eternity
But these I would be keeping
By earthly memory.

Of these I would remember
The songs the children sing,
The Christmas each December,
The tulips in the spring.

Car Hits Pole Man Injured

Glare Of Lights Cause Of Accident Says Driver
Of Car

John Kluch of West Falls street extension, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, suffering from severe injuries sustained last night, when the automobile of Howard Winfield Moore, R. D. No. 7, in which he was riding, crashed into a telephone pole on West Falls street near the lumber yards of the New Castle Lumber and Construction company.

He was injured on the left side of the head, when the accident occurred and Officer Thompson who answered the call to the police, removed him to the Jameson Memorial hospital. After being taken care of there, he relapsed into a state of coma, which it was feared might indicate a fracture of the skull. This morning he had revived and his condition is considered satisfactory.

He sustained a fracture of a bone in the head, but not of the skull adjacent to the brain. His condition last night is thought due to concussion resulting from his injury. His recovery is indicated.

Moore in his report to the police claimed that the accident occurred, when he became blinded by the glare of a street light and caused him to run into the telephone pole. Moore was not injured.

undoubtedly, but it is painful even to lose paper profits.

Not long ago Wall Street's trouble was foolish over-confidence. Today the trouble is foolish fear. Those that did not know why prices went up, don't know, now, why they go down.

They go down for a very simple reason, EVERYBODY TRYING TO SELL AT ONCE.

Twenty-five million automobiles are running in America. If every owner tried to sell his automobile at the same time, you could buy fine cars for $10 apiece, and less.

Those that gambled and have got to sell MUST sell. That's all of that.

Those that have bought good securities and sell them now from foolish fear, will regret it.

Many stocks, selling far below their intrinsic values, will be anywhere from $10 to $100 a share higher when this fear passes.

Senator Borah, who carries the farmer in his arms lovingly, like the father of the child in the "Erkling," will find that you can't separate farmers and stocks. Wheat, cotton, corn drop in spite of loving care and the $100,000,000 government fund. That reflects the drop in stocks.

Senator Borah suggests that congress should "investigate the exchanges and give the people the real facts."

If the senator would do that and give Wall Street the real facts, the exchange would be much obliged to him. Nobody is half as much puzzled as that poor exchange at this moment.

The senator also says "if the tariff fight shakes the stock exchange, let the exchange go."

Senator Borah may not have given his usual careful thought to what the stock exchange means. At this particular moment it means bitter disappointment and poverty for many.

For instance, one woman, after teaching school for 33 years had saved $2,000. Every dollar of it she put in an industrial stock, which bought by other women like herself, ignorant of values, and all frightened at once, dropped in value $100 a share.

This teacher has lost her $25,000, and more, and must work as much longer as she possibly can to pay what she owes.

There are millions like her, unfortunately. Every big business in the United States is "on the stock exchange." It cannot be brushed aside so lightly.

Little Fellow Would Benefit Most By Tax Cut

EARNED INCOME TO GET BIGGER SLASH

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Income taxes for the "little fellow" will be brought almost to the vanishing point if congress adopts the tax reduction proposal set forth by the treasury as a stabilizing factor in the present business situation.

While everybody, from the man who makes only $1,000 a year net income to the corporation which makes millions, will profit by the proposed reduction, it is the "little fellow" who will receive the greatest relative benefit, although the reduction is to be one per cent horizontally.

The following table shows the effect of Secretary Mellon's proposal on normal net incomes (above exemptions and reductions).

Income	Pres. Tax	Pro. Tax
$1,000	$ 15	$ 5
2,000	30	10
3,000	45	15
4,000	60	20
5,000	90	40
6,000	120	60
7,000	150	80
8,000	180	100

On all net incomes above $8,000 the present rate of 5 per cent would be reduced to 4 per cent, so that a net income of $100,000, which now pays a tax of $280, would only pay $180.

If the incomes come within the class of "earned income" a flat reduction of 25 per cent is also allowed. In the case of the $1,000 earned income it would thus be only $37.5 a year, while for the $10,000 earned income it would be $75.

Synthetic Bee Sting Is Cure For Rheumatism

(International News Service) VIENNA, Nov. 15.—The old popular notion that a bee's sting is medicine for persons suffering with rheumatism has been rehabilitated by Vienna scientists, who succeeded in preparing a synthetic bee poison, which when injected into the body, cures rheumatic ailments.

The two internal specialists, Professor A. Strasser and Dr. K. Wasserbrenner of the Vienna Polyclinique, have experimented for more than two years before they prepared the new drug, which they call "Apicozan". It resembles very closely the original bee poison, but it is more effective and less toxic. Hundreds of patients were treated with it up to now and the results are announced to have been excellent.

The new drug has recently been turned over for further examination to numerous Austrian and German hospitals.

Castle With Ghost Is Placed On Sale

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Hurstmonceux castle, famous as one of the most beautiful buildings in the south of England has been offered for sale here. It is a mellow red brick stronghold, built by Sir Roger Fiennes in 1440.

The castle is part of the estate of Col. Claude Lowther who spent $1,000,000 on its restoration. The majestic entrance with towers 84 feet high on either side has been much admired.

Tradition tells of a ghost who haunts the castle in the guise of a drummer.

MRS. ROSE STICKS TO HER STORY

The band did its level best to play a merry tune. However, the music was so jerky that Peter, marching with his arm linked in Stage Beetle's claw, found it hard to keep in step. He trod on Stage's claws and Stage stepped on his toes and at last the boy could stand it no longer.

"Do let me walk by myself, Staggy," cried he, unliking his arm from the beetle's claw. "I have only two feet, you know, and they will not keep step with you six." Staggy nodded.

"Go it alone, if you want to," said he. "I noticed that you were tumbling about a bit, but you didn't hurt me at all."

On marched Staggy Beetle, Peter strolling after him, chuckling to himself as he watched the beetles solemnly marking time with their feelers, as they shuffled along to the rosebush, where, at last, they all came to a halt. All the Mrs. Beetles in the neighborhood must have heard of Mrs. Rose's accident, for there they all were, gathered about the rosebush. Several of the ladies were wearing their aprons and dust caps, and one of them had rushed out of her house in such a hurry she had forgotten to lay aside her broom. Another carried a tiny mop over her shoulder, as though it had been a gun. Mrs. Rose, herself, had quite gotten over her fright, and was busily engaged in dusting the petals of rosebush. Nor did she cease her labors the while she repeated the story of her adventures in a shrill voice.

Peter would have liked to have looked longer at the ladies, but suddenly he caught sight of a small beetle spinning around on its head in the garden path. The boy had just about come to the conclusion the small beetle had gone mad, when Lady Bird explained the obliging little fellow was dancing a starting point for the racers to leave from.

Says Overshoes Should Be Worn In Wet Weather

Advises Parents To See That Children Keep Feet Protected

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, deputy secretary of health and chief of the bureau of child health, today advised parents of school children to be especially careful regarding the use of rubbers during wet weather.

"Many a child has obtained a severe cold followed by serious and sometimes fatal complications, simply because parents fail to be sufficiently interested in keeping the feet of children properly protected during wet weather," Dr. McCreary said. "One of the easiest avenues of approach for a cold is by way of wet feet. Modern footwear, even of the sturdier boy's variety, needs additional protection if the feet of the school children are to be properly protected in rainy or snowy weather. Children can scarcely be expected to attend to this matter themselves. Therefore, it is the parents' duty to see that proper protection is afforded."

Say Boston Offers Most For Dollar

(International News Service) BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Those who would get the most of "the almighty dollar" should come to Boston to spend it.

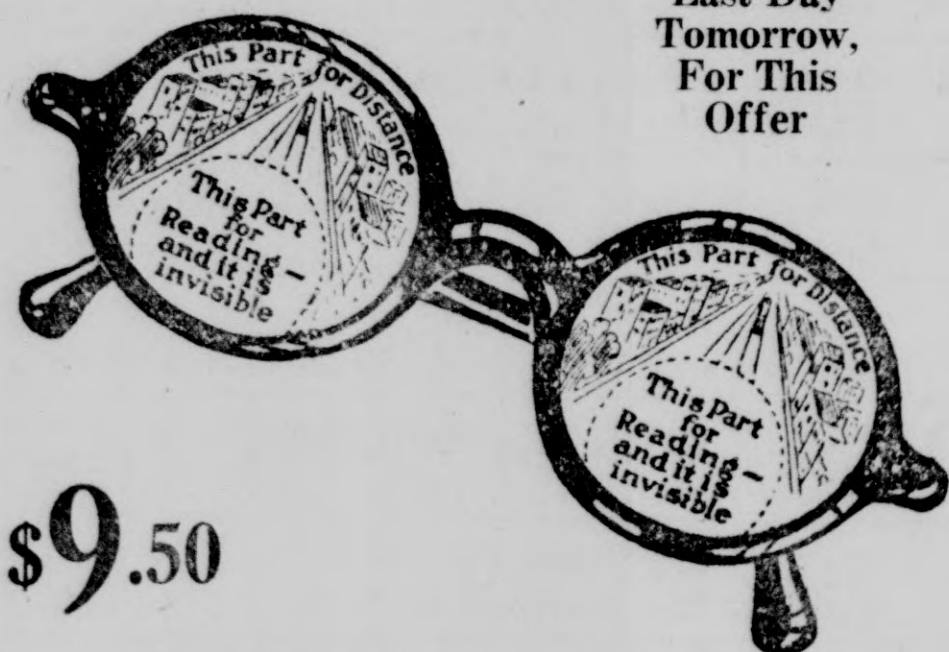

According to Charles H. Adams state commissioner of the necessities of life a dollar will go further in the Hub than in most large cities. Basing his statement on studies made by his department which indicate that the cost of living in Massachusetts cities compares very favorably with that in similar cities Mr. Adams said that there was no foundation for the views said to be prevalent outside New England that the high cost of living here was higher than elsewhere.

In the report the department revealed that the United States as a portion to earnings to its European sister nations. About 43.1 per cent of the American worker's salary is expended for food while the figure for Britain and France is 60 per cent.

Report Mystery Craft Buried In Pymatuning

GREENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—Buried deep in the bottom of the great Pymatuning Swamp, in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, there lies today a large wooden boat, an ancient craft around which hangs many a romantic and mysterious tale.

What sort of craft it is, who it belonged to, what strange crew and cargo it carried and how it came to be in Pymatuning Swamp, miles away from any stream large enough to float it, are all mysteries.

The old men who live in the vicinity of Pymatuning can tell about the strange boat, though none living have seen it. The younger generation know nothing about the strange vessel and the mysterious boat is too well hidden to tell any tales.

Robert Cotton hunted in the Pymatuning and while on one of his trips discovered the boat, a derelict overgrown by bullrushes and cattails, its stern already well settled into the soft mud which has since engulfed the whole craft.

Not a sketch or picture of the boat is in existence. But there are men who as boys have clambered over the deck of the Pymatuning boat. Frank Beers of Conneaut, was one of these boys. He remembers the boat as a strange craft that nobody knew anything much about. Only its soiled caked bow protruded above the mud and water.

Ben F. Mack, of Conneaut Lake Park, owns a canoe made from a piece of white oak taken from the boat. The canoe, made 125 years ago, was given to Mack by an ancestor, John McMurtrie, who was a pioneer and lived in the little town now called Harmonsburg, but then known as Brightburg.

McMurtrie often visited the boat in his early youth. He said the boys would poke long poles down into the mud to discover the size of the hull. The derelict, as near as they could determine by their soundings, was something like fifty feet long and a beam of about twenty-two feet.

It had a high sloping bow with a heavy stem piece decorated with strong iron rings. The boys managed to get one of the rings off by heating irons and boring around the bolts that held it. It is known that the boat had a mast about the size of a telegraph pole.

Simon Cotton, of Hartstown, is a relative of Robert Cotton, who discovered the boat. When asked for an opinion as to who built the boat and how it got to Pymatuning, he said he had his own theory, but would rather not tell it until it is proved true.

M. M. Miller, postmaster of Harmonsburg since 1897, and a lifelong resident, has known of the boat since childhood.

There are a dozen theories as to the boat's origin. Some think a detachment of De Soto's men, faring northward from the Mississippi, made their way up the Shenango in this solid oak craft and were exterminated by Indians in Pymatuning swamp.

The outlet of the swamp would not now float a vessel of anywhere near the size of the old craft, but it is possible more water flowed in the stream in those pioneer days when the standing forests kept the streams replenished.

Some believe it to have been a treasure boat and that Spanish gold may today be buried in the secretive Pymatuning.

History says the party of surveyors who ran the line that divides Pennsylvania from Ohio came up the Beaver River in a boat of goodly dimensions. That they may have penetrated the Pymatuning and there abandoned their craft is possible.

That the French or Spanish who explored this region brought the boat to the swamp is the explanation that seems best to fit. Spanish coins have been found near the scene. Guns not made in America have been unearthed.

Today, in this modern age, when the daily air mail cuts across the skies only a few miles south of the old boat's location, the mysterious craft lies buried in the swamp, two miles from Hartstown village. It is more than fifty years since the last vestige of the oaken hull sank below the surface. Today the mystery boat must be twenty feet below the surface of the mud, its shroud of silt has embalmed and preserved it soundings show.

It would not be particularly difficult to raise and salvage the old boat. It is quite possible that at some future date a historical society may be formed in Crawford and Mercer counties for this purpose. If this is done, the story of the mystery boat may at last be learned.

As it is, the great swamp lies silent as a Sphinx. Secure in its depths, it keeps the secret of the strange boat and the story of the men who brought it there.

THE CHAMBERS MOTOR COMPANY
426 NORTH CROTON AVENUE,
NEW CASTLE, PA.

November 15, 1929

To the Public:—
Friends, we are going to be frank and give you the reasons for sacrificing our $30,000 stock of used cars which will be offered at 33 1/3% to 50% of the actual prices we have been getting.

We have two important reasons for making this sacrifice.
FIRST. When we move into our new location about December 1st, we want to start off with a clean slate. That means that we must dispose of every car in our used car department, regardless of price. Every car will be tagged with the price marked in plain figures.

SECOND. Our schedules and purchases of new Chrysler and Plymouth cars and Fargo trucks, for the next three months, were made before the crash in Wall Street which naturally caused a slowing up in new car sales. Nevertheless, we are compelled to accept our commitments of new cars and to do this, we must raise money to take care of these shipments. Consequently, we are going to sacrifice our entire used car stock—and our loss will be your gain.

Just note the savings below, then be here early tomorrow morning.

Yours very truly,

THE CHAMBERS MOTOR CO.

President.

"KONJOLA BEST MEDICINE IN ALL THE WORLD"

Tells Of Wonderful Experience She Had With This Modern Compound.

MRS. ANNA STROTBEEK

"For months I endured indigestion, kidney trouble and constipation," said Mrs. Anna Strotbek, 115 Selma Street, Norristown, Penna. "After every meal came acute pains, and I ate as little as I could, knowing that suffering, gas, bloating and heart palpitation were certain to follow. I had terrible back pains, and could not sleep well at night on and off. I had tried many remedies, but nothing seemed to help. I had read of Konjola in the world's best medicine in the world, and I decided to try it. Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at Love & McGowan drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section."

Viewpoint That Market
Crash Has Run Its Course

New Tax Reduction Program Will Do Much To Restore Business Confidence

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Business industry and speculative transactions in stocks appeared from the Washington viewpoint today to be heading toward the calmer water of "easy money."

A combination of events indicated this situation after the New York Market slump.
(1) A tax reduction that will turn $160,000,000 back to corporations and individuals in 1930, with the possibility of even a more substantial cut in 1931.
(2) Possible reductions in the discount rates of the reserve banks following the decrease from 5 to 4½ per cent in the New York rate.
(3) Reduction of more than $2,000-000,000 in brokers loans in three weeks placing additional funds on the market.

Believe Worst Over.
Administration officials professed belief the worst had passed in the stock market, and while other reactions may be anticipated, there should be no further decline. It was pointed out that stabilization of a market which went steadily upward for three years and with many prices out of proportion could not be attained in a day.

Officials declared there are many stocks on the market quoted at prices well under their actual value, considering earning capacity.
Entire confidence Christmas business would be normal was expressed, although because of curtailment in buying due to losses, it may not reach the record levels of the last two years.
The 1928 Christmas was the greatest on record.

Seek Confidence.
Officials thought the new tax program which contemplates a flexible system under which new rates might be established annually to give the public benefit of any surplus funds the government might collect, will appeal to business generally and result in renewed confidence. While the proposal of Secretary Mellon recommends the one per cent reduction of normal tax for 1929 incomes, the tax payable in 1930, this does not preclude recommendations in November, 1930, for a further cut, provided conditions warrant.

As to the federal reserve situation it was pointed out that conditions in most districts warrant the reduction of rediscount rates from the five per cent level to 4½ per cent while officials were not willing to predict what action would be taken it would not be surprising if the rates were reduced, possibly later to four per cent. This would ease the pressure on banks which are surfeited with stock loans.

H. L. Allen Gets Paving Bill For Land He Gave To City

Attorney Walter S. Reynolds today appeared before city council and recited that some years ago H. L. Allen offered about 10 feet of ground to the city. The plot offered is between the extension of North street and Ne-bannock avenue.

The city laid sidewalks but there is no record of it having been accepted.
Recently the section was paved and Mr. Allen has received a bill for $1,240.
Today Mr. Reynolds told council that Mr. Allen would pay the bill if the city would surrender any right in the street and if the city exempts the oil the city can have the 10 feet of ground.
He wished to have the action made a record.

employees of the Pennsylvania Power company. The play was presented in the lecture room of the company building, 19 East Washington street.

City To Proceed To Force Laying Of New Sidewalk

Over a hundred and fifty persons were present and judging from the applause, the program was greatly appreciated.

J. L. Mosely city sidewalk inspector today reported to city council which met at the city building that he had served notices for the construction of a sidewalk at the property of Mabel Powell, Garfield avenue.

He said the sidewalk had not been laid and mailmen had refused to deliver mail at places where no sidewalks are laid. Councilmen authorized the street department commissioner to ask for bids for the laying of the sidewalk.

Although brown is being featured in advance of the showings Paris declares that black will surpass it later on in the season.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A parrot escaped the other evening from the Park avenue home of a stock broker. A policeman came across the bird two blocks distant. It was perched on the rail of a church, screaming at the top of its voice: "More margin! More margin!"

TICKERS WHILE YOU EAT

They're installing tickers in the latest of Childs' erstwhile baked beans and pancake parlors.

Why make Winnie the waitress worry through the morning without being able to tell how her General Electric and A. T. and T. holdings are faring?

AND WHAT A TONGUE LASHING!

According to Eddie Cantor, if the Ticker Tumble does nothing else, at least it's going to send a lot of The Boys back to their wives.

RIGHTO, JUDGE!

One of the brothers of The Ebony and Ivory Belt carries a powder puff with him while steering his taxi through Mazda Lane and its perils. The other day he removed both hands from the steering wheel to powder his ebony beak and forthwith bounced into a motor truck.

"Three days in jail," said the judge. And to an attendant he added: "See that he doesn't get hold of a pot of rouge or a lipstick in that time. Next case!"

CONCERNING AN AUTHOR

Bill Bolitho, Columnist, whose book, "Twelve Men Against the Gods" has just been released by Simon & Schuster (Trader Horn's friends), has red hair, a long nose and a bird-like appearance. One of his hands is larger than the other. He says he got it that way peddling papers on the streets of Capetown, South Africa. He inhales cigarettes and Burgundy and thinks too much of his health to take exercise. You can get a good line on him from the following remark: "However ought to make an ideal president because he doesn't know how to play."

UPHOLDING THE IRISH

Harry Wallace is the only Jew in the cast of 25 players in "The Silver Tassie," at the Irish Theater in The Village. On his way home the other night Harry paused to challenge a corner loafer who was disparaging "every flannel-mouth Mike on earth."

Mr. Wallace emerged from the fray with a split lip. Pete of the Pave crept to his lodgings with a couple of mouse eyes.

VANDERBILT'S LATEST

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., who dumped thousands of dollars of his grandfather's not-so-hard-earned dough in the newspaper racket on The Coast, has come back for more. They always do.

His latest venture is the purchase of half interest in "The Nomad," a magazine of adventure and travel, edited by Al Crockett, who used to be publicity man at the old Waldorf. "The Nomad" aims at a Park Avenue circulation—which means that every other avenue but Park will support it.

THE SUCKER PAYS

The old South Reservoir in Central park, which is to be filled in and used as a children's playground, is alive with pike, perch, bass and suckers. The best minds of the city were at a loss what to do with the fish until Doc. Andrew Jackson Fox of the Equitable Life Assurance company, a fish fancier, suggested that the finny inhabitants be moved to Lake Manapac. The transfer being costly it was decided to move all the fish except the suckers and to sell them and use the money to defray the expense of moving.

It's the sucker that pays, and pays, and pays.

THESE PROPHETS!

George Jessel's broker told him, following the first crash, that he didn't think it was going to amount to anything.

"He reminds me," says Georgie, "of the lad who interrupted Noah building the Ark to voice the opinion that he didn't think it was going to be more than a shower."

The Way OF THE World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

OUR CURIOSITY

We human beings are willing to pay millions to satisfy our curiosity about ourselves. The appropriation of government money to meet the cost of taking the census of 1930 will be about $30,000,000, the mere enumeration of the population is a small part of the work. There will be a vast collection of varied information about us and our activities. There will be a manufacturing and distribution census. It will be discovered how many things have been manufactured and how many have been sold. When the results have been published we of the United States should know "where we are at."

ABOUT WHAT?

One thing the census takers will probably not find out. It is the most important thing, and the thing we most want to know. They will tell us how many we are, how big we are, how much money we make. But they can't tell us what it's all about. They can't tell us why we are here and where we are going.

TAKING STOCK OF MAN

These census takers will not be able to take the human being apart and set him down in neat rows of figures and statistical tables. They cannot explain to us the mystery of his behavior, the strength of his impulses, the capacity he has for repression or expression, his amazing lack of rationalism, his vanity, his generosity or his pettiness. They cannot measure his will power, his capacity for resistance, his ideals and his failures. All that, put into a census, would be informing. Knowing all that, or half that, would be worth while.

AS TO FREEDOM

The wise old Epictetus said that "he is free who lives as he chooses." That is an entirely unsound idea even though it may in a way be true. In the first place nobody can live exactly as he chooses. Inasmuch as most of us would part of the time choose things that would be bad for us, it is fortunate that law and custom prevent us from having absolute freedom of choice. Adjustment to the best thought in civilization and a disposition to be harmonious in human relationships is much better than the entirely imaginative idea of complete freedom.

The quality of foodstuffs at present is said to be highest in the history of the nation. Now if we encounter an unsatisfactory meal we shall blame the cook.—The Haverhill Evening Gazette.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Never Hurry Dawdler; Work Out A Schedule, Carry Out To Letter

A perennial problem of the school is tardiness. It is not a teacher problem, but a parent problem. The child late at school either did not start from home on time or he loitered on the way.

The cause of both is in the home nearly always. Of course, some casual situations arise at home, and some on the way to school, which are unavoidable. But these are so rare as to be ignored.

The child who dawdles on his way to and from school learned no doubt, to dawdle long before he was old enough to go to school. The more he "fooled around" the more his parents tried to hurry him and the more they talked the more, in turn, he dawdled. The best way to make a dawdler is eternally to hound the child to hurry.

The dawdling child often is an eating problem. With unhappy experiences at breakfast awaiting him why should he hasten to be washed and dressed?

Suppose you have a dawdling, tardy child. Work out with him the hour when he must leave home to arrive comfortably at school on time. Then find out when he must be called, must arrive at breakfast, so as to have an ample interval for preparation. Have a clock that is dependable, and follow it. Make it clear to the child that these schedules will be carried out to the letter. Define the consequences. Make them definite (which must not be more tongue exercise). Then don't be a liar.

Work out this program several days ahead of the morning when it is to begin. Make a solemn covenant, and the other parent and all other adults and older children, with the problem child, pledging that no one will ever say the word "hurry," nor even suggest it in any way. First count the cost and the likelihood of your success.

It may be that a specific reward offered in every case the child is off on time, will do the trick. You will know. A definite penalty, which will be effective, for every minute late on leaving may be necessary. Whatever the scheme, you must be sure it will work before it is set in operation. You must succeed; failure is very costly. Shift the whole responsibility to the child, you serving as a mere observer of the clock and the results. For some children it will suffice to let them take their punishment at school for being late, and some definite co-operation with the teacher may be carried through. Nevertheless it seems hardly fair to shift our own responsibilities to the school.

At any rate, the child must be at the school on time as a matter of habit, else he will lose in character. When he frequently goes late he acts immorally, causing unnecessary annoyances to the teacher and the other children, wasting your money and the money of the public. The child, if not himself embarrassed, may indeed enjoy the attention which his lateness caused, getting satisfaction from being a nuisance to others.

No; we can't afford to have our children tardy.

Air Reliability Tour Benefits In Performance

Industry Expected To Benefit From Flight Around Country

NO ACCIDENTS OF CONSEQUENCE NOTED

By HOMER H. METZ,
International News Service Aviation Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Confidence in a man of industry is inspired by only one thing—performance. It is with this knowledge in mind that the National Air Reliability Tour takes to the air from Ford Airport at Dearborn, Mich., each year.

Sponsors of the tour feel that if between 35 and 50 airplanes can complete flights over the areas of the country on scheduled time the aviation industry can reap a harvest of benefit that could be obtained in no other manner.

The records made by the planes entered in the tours—there have been five of them so far—prove this to be right.

Cover 50,000 Miles.
In five years time the touring planes have covered almost 50,000 miles and there have been no serious accidents—a truly remarkable record.

This year the tour was an unqualified success in all respects. Taking off from Ford Airport on October 5, 29 contesting planes and 13 accompanying craft flew over a distance of 5,000 miles to return to the Ford field 16 days later.

From Dearborn the tour proceeded to Windsor, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, Can., thence through Portland, Me., Springfield, Mass., New York, Philadelphia, Richmond, Va., Baltimore, Greenville, S. C., Augusta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Macon, Ga., Atlanta, Ga., Murfreesboro, Tenn., Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Springfield, Mo., Wichita, Kan., Des Moines, Ia., St. Paul, Kalamazoo, Mich., Chicago and Wasau, Mich.

In every city where the sky caravan came to earth the pilots and passengers were received with enthusiasm.

Popular Cities.
In all of the American cities included in the tour's itinerary the local people who thronged about the grounded planes asked intelligent questions showing that in addition to taking an interest in America's youngest and most promising industry they possessed some practical knowledge of it.

In the Canadian cities visited such was not the case. There some of the people acted as if they had never seen an airplane before.

At the overnight stops the visiting pilots were generally taken in tow by members of local flying clubs or organizations and an intelligent and helpful exchange of ideas invariably resulted.

That the importance of the annual tour is well realized by those inside the aviation industry is illustrated by the imposing list of prominent flyers who participated in this year's round-the-country pilgrimage. This list included such celebrities as Roger Q. Williams, George Haldeman, Capt. Frank Hawks, Forest O'Brien and Red Jackson, Mrs. Keith Miller, Frances Harrell, May Halzipp, Lee Schoenhair and others.

Pantages Will Get No Prison Favors

(International News Service)
SAN QUENTIN, STATE PRISON, Cal., Nov. 15.—Alexander Pantages, will receive the same treatment as other prisoners at San Quentin.

So declared Warden James B. Holman when he received word of the millionaire theatrical magnate's conviction from Los Angeles.

"What work will we assign Pantages? We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," said the warden.

"We worried about what we were going to do about Asa Keyes, but he isn't here yet."

"In any event, Pantages will be handled exactly the same as any other prisoner. After he is here a week, it will be decided by Captain John Carpenter and prison doctors what work he is fitted for."

If Pantages shares the same fate that the last 20 men at San Quentin that have been convicted of the same crime did, he will receive a 20 year sentence from the prison board. A term of 20 years, six months and eight days is average dealt out by the board for that crime.

The time actually spent in prison by men convicted of statutory offenses, considering parole and time allowed for good behavior, averages about eight years, prison statistics show.

The prison board, however, is more likely to frown on a parole request from this type of prisoner than any other type, records show.

Several Hundred Are Seeking Cure At Power's Grave

(International News Service)
MALDEN, Mass., Nov. 15.—Another pitiful army of the lame halt and the blind were expected to mill about the grave of the Rev. Patrick J. Power here today as reports of miraculous cures continued to spread around the country.

Because of the huge crowd of pilgrims, averaging 50,000 a day, who have invaded the Holy Cross cemetery since the "Cure Shine" was discovered, officials of the cemetery have asked municipal authorities to swear in cemetery employees as special police in order that order may be maintained.

Film Folks Use Airplanes Most

Profession Leads In Use Of Airships As Means Of Travel

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—More nationally and internationally known persons from the world of the motion picture and the theatre have been air passengers between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans than from any other profession according to a study of records kept by the Transcontinental Air Transport the coast-to-coast air-and-rail system known as the "Lindbergh Line."

Although bankers, merchants, manufacturers, brokers, engineers, artists, statesmen and experts in many trades and professions have utilized the 48-hour plane-and-train service between New York city and Los Angeles and San Francisco the highest percentage of individuals best known in the news of the day have been drawn from the stages of New York and from the studios of Hollywood. In addition many stage and screen stars participated in the inauguration of the Transcontinental Air Transport including Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and Gloria Swanson.

Among the better known personages who have traveled by air from one coast to another are Dolores Del Rio, Lionel Barrymore, John Gilbert, Ina Claire, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowes, Will Rogers and Eddie Quillan. Many officials of picture and theatre corporations have also been passengers.

Boston Teacher Is Popular In Japan

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Miss Catherine Crosswell Perry, direct descendant of Commodore Perry, is taking Japan by storm, according to a report by Rev. Leland W. Mann, to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions here. Miss Perry, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles A. Perry, of Boston is a newly appointed missionary-teacher under the board of commissioners in Kobe College, Kobe, Japan.

Following an address to the Pan-Pacific Club of Tokyo, exactly 16 reporters were swarming around her home, according to the report of Rev. Mann, another new missionary of the American board. Her picture was taken half a dozen times and appeared in four or five dailies.

"Like my ancestor, Commodore Perry, I have come to Japan as a self-invited guest," said Miss Perry in her Pan-Pacific Club address, "and I have the same audacity as the commodore in thinking I should be received as an ambassador of good will, and I have not been disappointed."

Miss Perry, graduate of Emerson Oratorical College, 1921, is being supported by the Calvinistic church of Fitchburg, Mass.

Trainmen Prevent Serious Blast By Courage Display

Two Gasoline Tank Cars Threatened By Fire Are Saved By Quick Action

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—Courage on the part of Engineer L. R. Lewis and Conductor Con Sheehan is credited with the prevention of a serious explosion here today when two tank cars carrying 9,000 gallons of gasoline were threatened by fire.

Sheehan discovered a blazing box car loaded with lime when he passed the string of cars. He ran his engine a half mile to the point where he could hook on and switched the car, blazing near the gasoline loaded tanks, within reach of a fire plug where Wilkinsburg firemen fought the choking smoke and lime-fed flames for three hours before extinguishing it.

Old School Board Completes Duties

Final Session Before Reorganization Occurs Thursday Evening

TO NAME OFFICERS ON DECEMBER 2

When the meeting of the New Castle School Board adjourned Thursday evening, November 14, it marked the close of the last meeting of the board as it has been constituted for some time. The next meeting will be on the first Monday night in December when the new board will organize, and two entirely new members, Dr. W. D. Cleland and Albert W. Bauman will be inducted.

One of the members who would have been there last night for the last time, was missing, death having called Joseph E. Ligo since the last board meeting. Attorney Charles H. Young, president of the board saw his last night of school board service also Thursday evening. Two of the present members, Mrs. Ethel Ashmore Douthett and Daniel B. Woolcock were re-elected at the last election and will merely be members of the new board.

Resolutions of Respect
Two resolutions were passed by the board, one of respect for the late Joseph E. Ligo who was vice president of the board, and one of appreciation of the service of President Young. The meeting last night also marked the close of another year's service as solicitor of the board for Attorney William J. Moffatt. He was first elected in 1906 and has served continuously as School Board Solicitor since then, probably a record in the State of Pennsylvania.

Through his long experience in school law, Mr. Moffatt has become an authority upon the subject, and his re-election each year has become almost as much a custom as reading the minutes before each meeting.
As has been his custom for many years, he cleaned up all his opinions for the board before the adjournment of the last meeting of the school board year. One opinion asked was that concerning the Margaret Henry Home. A request had been made for the exemption of the Home from taxes on the grounds that it was a charitable organization. His opinion was that the Home was complying with its charter, that it had received but little revenue except from contributions, and that inasmuch as the City of New Castle had declared it an exemptable organization, that the school district should do likewise. A similar opinion was handed down concerning the Temple Israel property on Highland and Moody. In this the solicitor stated that this property was for religious purposes and as such was exempt.

A third opinion was that the board could not let separate contracts for repairs to the Senior High School lighting system, in amounts under $300.00 as all of the contracts would bear on one school and one plan. Therefore bids would have to be advertised.

On the first Monday evening in December, which will be December 2nd, the new board will meet and organize. Because of the fact that the present president, Charles H. Young will not be a member, and the vice president, Joseph E. Ligo has passed away, it will be necessary to elect these officers.

New Insurance Plan For Schools

Protection To Be Tripled Under New Plan Without Extra Cost

COMPANIES WILL SHARE ALL RISKS

Nearly three times as much insurance will be carried on the school buildings of New Castle as has been carried in the past, following the action of the board on Thursday evening, November 14. But while the aggregate of insurance will be nearly tripled, the cost to the school district will be slightly less in premiums, due to a co-insurance arrangement which will be carried out.

Under the 80 per cent co-insurance clause now in effect with fire insurance companies, the rate per thousand dollars worth of coverage is much lower where the full 80 per cent is carried jointly among various companies. Instead of one agency carrying a set amount of insurance on one building, the agency will now have a certain percentage of all the insurance on all the buildings.

Loss Divided.
As an example, if an insurance company carried $25,000 insurance on a building appraised at $75,000 insurable value, and the building was destroyed, the one company would bear the entire $25,000 loss. Under the 80 per cent co-insurance clause, the building would be insured at 30 per cent of its insurable value, $75,000, which would be $60,000. If the building burned down, the school district would be given $60,000 remuneration, but the loss would be apportioned among all of the fire insurance companies participating in the school insurance.

Because of a number of fire proof buildings in the system, the joint agreement brings the rate down on some of the older buildings, and means nearly three times as much coverage as formerly held.

The total insurance formerly carried was $955,000 on buildings and $142,000 on contents, making a total of $1,097,000 in all. The premium on this amounted to $21,365.70 for three years.

Under the new arrangement there will be $2,614,100 carried on buildings, $286,800 on contents, making a total of $2,900,900 insurance, with the premium costing $21,356.76 for three years. Secretary Hugh M. Marquis was authorized to begin the work of having the policies re-written and the work of apportioning the amounts to the various companies.

A. C. Hyde asked if anything had been done to equalize the amounts of insurance given to the various agencies here. Mr. Duff replied that if the new arrangement was carried out, that it would be necessary to allocate the new insurance on the same basis as it had been carried in order to get the benefit of any refunds that would be made.

In order to get the policies re-written now a payment of approximately $5,000 will be made. This is not an additional cost, but merely represents the premium for one of the three years of the policy and would have to be paid in another year or so on the old policies.

James W. Breen And Wife Miraculously Escape Death As Bomb Wrecks Home

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The residence of James W. Breen, first assistant and the lives of him and his wife endangered when a bomb was exploded early today on the front porch of their home. Breen is personal advisor to Mayor William H. Thompson.

Physical Director Organizing Clubs

William Klee, Director At High School Organizing Bicycle, Rifle, And Hiking Clubs

Boys' physical director, William L. Klee at the senior high school is organizing several outdoor clubs. The Bicycle club, the Hiking club and the Rifle club, are among the organizations that are being formed at the high school.

The boys seem to like to shoot more than anything else judging from the number that have already handed in their names. The first day found some 50 boys on the list of the Rifle club. The Bicycle club and the Hiking club do not have as large a number of boys as the Rifle club. Every Saturday the instructor with the boys will depart for one of doors and take a hike or shoot if its the Rifle club, or go bicycle riding if its the bicycle club.

This is the second year that clubs of this kind have been formed at the high school.

Hair that sparkles!

No one can deny the importance of having the hair arranged in the style best suited to the individual type. Much of the effect is lost, however, unless the hair is kept soft, abundant, lustrous.

A million busy women and girls know the easiest way to keep the hair in perfect condition is with Danderine. The first application will show you how marvelously it removes excess oil from the hair; cleanses it; makes it sparkle with new life and lustre. It's so simple to use Danderine. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair! The consistent use of Danderine will dissolve the worst crust of dandruff; soothe, heal the scalp; stimulate the growth of long, silky abundant hair.

Danderine isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show. It makes the hair easy to manage; holds it in place for hours. "Set" your waves with it and see how much longer they stay in.

Harry K. Thaw To Appeal Decision In Estandus Case

Harry K. Thaw Visits Pittsburgh And Grave Of His Mother

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—Harry K. Thaw in Pittsburgh Thursday to visit the grave of his mother who died here last June said that he will appeal from the verdict which gives Marcia Estandus, New York night club entertainer the right to collect $25,000 from him for an alleged spanking which she received at his hands.

"I'll never give her a cent," Thaw said. He said that he thought he should have taken the stand in his own defense but that counsel thought otherwise during the trial held recently in New York when a jury awarded the girl in the case $75,000 and which the court cut to one third that amount.

Speaking of the jury Thaw said, "I think that they thought I feared to swear."

In discussing the case Thaw spoke of Miss Estandus as her "whoopiness."

State Farmers Combine In Sale Of Dairy Produce

More Than One-Third Of Marketable Milk Handled By marketing Associations

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—More than one-third of the marketable milk and over one-fourth of the total milk produced in Pennsylvania is being sold by farmer-owned cooperative marketing associations, according to estimates of the bureau of markets, Pennsylvania department of agriculture.

In 1926, 26 per cent of all the milk and 33 per cent of the marketable milk was sold by cooperatives; in 1927, 32 per cent of the total output and 40 per cent of the commercial output, and in 1928, 30 per cent of all the milk produced and 37 per cent of the marketed product.

The major part of the milk sold cooperatively has been marketed by three interstate associations which operate in Pennsylvania; one in Pittsburgh, another in Philadelphia and the third in New York City. These three organizations handle approximately 94 per cent of all the milk sold by cooperative associations. The balance of the cooperative sales are made by local milk plans and cooperative creameries.

The value of dairy products sold cooperatively from Pennsylvania farms is approximately $38,000,000.

Not only have cooperative marketing associations during the past three years increased their volume of sales, but they have also improved their capacity to sell dairy products at a more favorable price for their members the bureau reports. Based upon the sales prices for the amount of milk marketed, cooperative milk marketing associations and creameries selling Pennsylvania milk obtained 2.97 cents for each pound of milk which they sold in 1926 or 6.39 cents per quart. In 1927, they obtained 3.27 cents for every pound or 7.04 cents per quart and in 1928 they secured 3.37 cents per pound or 7.25 cents for each quart sold. Some of this increase in price was no doubt due to general improvement in the quality of the milk marketed during 1927 and 1928 as compared with that of 1926, but a large part of the increased price was due to more aggressive and better selling by the cooperatives, it is said.

Amazing Number Of Auto Accidents Here; Year's Total Over 1600

One of the duties of the police sergeant is the taking of automobile accident reports, and there are times when this keeps him quite busy, without regard to his other duties.

On many days, especially over weekends, there appears often to be an epidemic of accidents, with everybody doing it, that is, running their car into somebody else's or some object along the streets.

During the past year there have been more than 1,600 accidents of varying shades of importance reported at the sergeant's office of the New Castle police department.

Some represent serious accidents, in which some person has been killed or seriously injured, perhaps, while the great majority represent but scraped fenders and often "injured personal feelings."

The indicated average number of accidents reported as occurring on the streets of this city are approximately 125 on the average month, but during the past 30 days the number reached 149. As a usual thing the number of accidents are greater in wet weather, when the improved streets are slippery and it is harder to control a swift moving machine.

Usually the greater average number of accidents occur during what is known as the late spring and summer months, because of the vastly greater number of cars in use, as a usual thing, during that period of the year.

It is probable that the reported accidents in the main, represent a little better than 50 per cent of the accidents of all kinds, that actually occur on the streets of the city. This is due to the fact that many accidents are of such minor character that those involved settle their troubles and forget about it.

It is always best to report an accident, then there is a record of the happening, should anything turn up later in the way of injury or other reason for knowing about the accident. And the state requires a report where there is any considerable damage or persons injured.

Darmstadt Gets Student Contests

(International News Service) DARMSTADT, Nov. 15.—The international students' championship sport contests, which were last held in Rome and Paris, will be held in the late summer of 1930 in Darmstadt, in connection with the celebration of the city's 600th anniversary. The University Stadium here, one of the best in all Germany, has a cinder track 404 yards long and 8 1-3 yards wide, and a swimming pool 56 1-2 yards long and 16 2-3 yards wide.

Nearby are football fields and 25 tennis courts. In connection with the contests will be excursions to Heidelberg and Frankfurt and along the Rhine from Mainz to Cologne.

3 Indians Escape Sante Fe Prison

(International News Service) SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 15.—All the cunning of the Indians in fiction has been brought to bear by three Navajos who have escaped from the state penitentiary here within the last few weeks without leaving a trace behind them.

Hosten Nez, a trusty at the clay pits near here was the last to walk away leaving no trail that even bloodhounds could pick up.

What methods the Indians used in their escapes is not known although it is almost certain they simply walked away since the use of automobiles or horses in the rugged country surrounding the clay formations is highly improbable.

Six Hundred Million For Christmas Savers

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Within the next two weeks some 9,000,000 persons in the United States will receive an average of $500.00 each, or an aggregate of $600,000,000, in Christmas club savings, according to a check-up today.

The lower class in Europe will stand just so much. A Roumanian prince has beat up a taxi driver.

Living With People Of Other Races

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text,

"Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him."—Acts, 10:34, 35.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The sweet pastoral story of Ruth, the Moabite gleaner, is not only one of the literary gems of the ages, but it is a practical treatise on interracial relations which is quite up to date in its teaching upon the question of living together with folks of other races. It reveals beautifully the fact that fitness of soul, loyalty of devotion and unselfish and self-sacrificing love are to be found of all nations and races and creeds. And that Ruth of Moab and Rahab of Jericho should find place with Mary of Nazareth among those contributing to the blood stream that was to flow in the veins of the Saviour of all nations is God's own best proof that race prejudice has no place in the divine mind or the plan of the God who "hath made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth."

Jesus And Race Prejudice

Our Lord had no sympathy with the ancient and deep seated race prejudices of his day. Others journeyed around Samaria, but he "must needs go through Samaria"; his disciples were eager to call down fire upon one of its villages, but he rebuked them for their narrowness; his disciples marveled at finding him talking with the Samaritan women at the well of Sychar, for their people "had no dealings with the Samaritans," and he was not afraid to make a Samaritan the hero of his most beautiful parable of social teaching. Jesus was cosmopolitan enough to deserve the title "Son of Man," and he loved the title.

Race Prejudice of the Early Church

The early church was slow to grasp the internationalism of Jesus. Thirteen years after the Lord's ascension the apostle Peter needed a special vision from heaven to prepare him to come into a Roman centurion's house and welcome him and his household into fellowship on equal terms with those of his own race and blood. "What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common," was God's command which threw down the bars of the early church to all races, and that was 13 years after their Lord had commanded his disciples to disciple all nations! Surely, sympathy for other races comes slowly and prejudices are hard to dislodge!

The Lesson Learned

But, though they learned the lesson slowly, they learned well that lesson their Master tried to teach them, that "God is no respecter of persons, but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him." The Christian church is the greatest "melting pot" the world has ever known. Today in India it is taking the outcasts and "untouchables" and those of high caste and blending them into a strange new fellowship at the Lord's table, which is nothing less than a social miracle. There is room for more such miracles here in America, but the gospel of Christ, if followed, can work them where all other methods fail, for it says to all races: "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, ye are all one in Christ Jesus."

(The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 17 is, "Living With People Of Other Races," Ruth 1:1-18, John 4:5-10, Acts 10:1-11, 18; Romans 1:14, Galatians 3:28, 29, the golden text being, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him."—Acts 10:34, 35.)

(The daily Bible readings for this week's family worship are: Monday, Jonah 1:1-10; Tuesday, Jonah 3:1-10; Wednesday, Jonah 4:1-11; Thursday, Acts 17:23-31; Friday, Psalm 137; Saturday, Eph. 2:11-22; Sunday, Isa. 55:1-7.)

Philadelphia Man

Is Found Suicide

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Another suicide was marked up to the recent stock market slump today as W. Paul Brown, 35, resident manager of the firm of E. W. Clucas, lay dead here, a suicide.

Brown had sustained serious reverses in the market slump, according to his business associates. He was found lying with a bullet wound in his head in a room at the Penn Athletic Club.

(International News Service) BERLIN, Nov. 15.—A forty seconds' strike was performed in a Berlin theatre. In the third act suddenly the curtain dropped and an actor appeared before the footlights announcing that the actors would now begin a strike of forty seconds "to show their solidarity with the workers in the fight against the plot against the unemployment-insurance."

After the forty seconds the performance was continued.

OLD-FASHIONED HOSPITALITY BROUGHT UP-TO-DATE ON A BROAD-GAUGED AND LIBERAL SCALE:

This sale is being conducted through the hospitality of Mr. Israel DeRoy, head of the great parent S. H. DeRoy organization of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Israel DeRoy is the diamond dean of Pittsburgh. He embarked in the jewelry business there at the tender age of 14, assuming responsibilities which were without parallel for his years, and which enables him to look back in proud retrospection on an organization that took root 78 years ago. The Boy Merchant, they called him then. The Grand Old Man of the 24-Karat Industry and diamond trade they call him today. Being "on the square" with the public through all these years Israel DeRoy has achieved a record consistent with big business. He has given the S. H. DeRoy organization not only huge credit financing resources, but also tremendous buying power for six large stores—two in Pittsburgh and one each in Johnstown, Homestead, McKeesport and New Castle. Together these Gibraltars of strength, augmented by the executive and merchandising abilities of two sons, Sam and Emanuel DeRoy, assure patrons the greatest values, the most liberal terms and the finest treatment.

When you stop to compare diamonds with other investments you don't wonder at the craze for diamonds some people have. Diamonds hoarded in safe deposit boxes have not infrequently contributed huge and surprising profit to estates left by well-known society folks. Diamonds never go back or depreciate. They are always a liquid asset. They may be turned into cash without loss. They are never a frozen or unsalable asset like many other legitimate investments. You never have to sacrifice in an emergency. Other investments fluctuate, but not diamonds. In the 78 years we have been established diamonds have increased in value to an extent that is amazing. The diamond your grandfather, your grandmother or old uncle or aunt bought for a hundred dollars was three times the size of the one you paid a hundred dollars for today, and history will repeat itself. Statisticians have proved that the diamond output can never equal the increase in population and consequent demand.

Eight Homestead Politicians Face Serious Charges

Fire Captain, Former Councilman Among Those Under Warrant Of Arrest

JUSTICE OF PEACE IS IN HOT WATER

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—Warrants for the arrest of eight Homestead politicians, including Joseph Frank, a fire captain, former councilman and who was recently released from Atlanta Federal prison, are in the hands of county detectives today.

The politicians are said to be involved in the Homestead primary election scandal growing out of the alleged confession of two negroes that they had been bribed with whiskey and money to repeat their votes, using names furnished them, according to the alleged confession, by the politicians.

In addition to Frank, warrants call for the arrest of Louis Markowitz, Pat Harrington, Marty Delaney, Lawrence Albies, Julius Izzy, Michael Masley and Edward Hertz.

The informations were drawn up late yesterday by Assistant District Attorney Harry R. Phillips, turned over to Chief Murrin who swore to them before Alderman Flanagan and then given to county detectives to serve.

Chief Murrin said that bail of $2,000 would be asked.

What action will be taken against Justice of the Peace J. Clyde Miller following the discovery that election records placed in his keeping had been burned, is still undecided. District Attorney Samuel H. Garner said. An investigation to discover who is responsible for the destruction of the records has been launched since Miller claims that he was not familiar with the law requiring that such records should be kept safely and complete for a period of one year following the election. They were burned, Miller said to make the boxes available for the regular election.

Civil War Arguing, Results In Divorce

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Judge Joseph Sabath has ended the civil war and Mrs. Roberta Waxman is free today.

The romance of Roberta and Alexander, which started in Mayfield, Ky., last December, went on the rocks officially yesterday because, as Mrs. Waxman complained, "Alexander and I are unable to get the Civil War settled."

Their honeymoon began with an argument on Fort Sumter, according to the complaint. In March they were following Grant, and here Alexander is alleged to have gotten rough.

Mrs. Waxman declared she won an argument over Pickett's charge at Gettysburg—also a discolored eye. Judge Sabath granted the divorce.

BIG BLACK BEAR FILLS UP ON HONEY

SHIPPENVILLE, Pa., Nov. 15.—A large bear visited a bee colony of Edward F. Black with disastrous results last night. Mr. Black resides near here and has 10 bee-hives located in a row. The bear selected one of the hives near the center.

The hive was completely demolished, with the frame being torn to pieces, and between 30 and 35 pounds of honey consumed by the hungry visitor. The bear approached the colony through a potato patch, where his large tracks were plainly visible in the soft mud.

According to Charles Stewart Mott, above, vice president of the General Motors corporation, and new president of the Union Industrial bank of Flint, Mich., former officials of the bank manipulated $3,592,000 of the bank's funds in stock market speculations in two years before they confessed to the directors. State Department Is Confident On Naval Conference (International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The state department is so confident the five-power naval limitations conference in London next January will be a success that it has not even considered the possibility of a deadlock, Joseph P. Cotton, acting secretary of state, said today.

He said the department "had at no time ever considered a tri-partite agreement with Great Britain and Japan or any other alternative arrangement in even the London conference breaks."

Dead Man's Promise Wins Mining Claims

(International News Service) SANTA ANA, Calif., Nov. 15.—A death-bed promise made to the late Jacob Yaeger, pioneer prospector, was carried out here when patents were issued to nine mining claims Yaeger

The prospector had fought for his rights against the claims of officials of the Cleveland forest reserve, in which the mines are located. At the height of the battle, Yaeger died, and his daughter promised to carry on the fight.

With the services of Calvert Wilson, mining attorney, she placed the matter before the Secretary of the Interior and the general land office commission, and finally won her point.

Mining men say the decision, made by Brainard Smith of the land office, settles the question of relative worth of land in the forest reserves of this section for recreational or mining purposes.

No Such Thing As "Flaming Youth"

(International News Service) WACO, Texas, Nov. 15.—There is no such thing as "flaming youth," declares Dean W. S. Allen, of Baylor University here, in defending the latest crop of college freshmen as "clean and earnest searchers after knowledge" who rate above the ordinary in psychological examinations.

Vigorously upholding the morals of the often maligned younger generation, Dr. Allen declared the appellations of "flaming youth," "jelly bean," "petters" and "flappers" are the grossest misnomers and the social contacts between modern youngsters are just as innocent as they ever were.

"The fact that a boy and girl walk across the campus holding hands," Dr. Allen said, "should not be regarded as indicative of evil of any sort. My experience has demonstrated that it does not mean any more than it did 40 years ago when young Romeo held the distance of two or three feet from his Juliet.

"Ideals and aspirations have changed almost not at all in the generations embracing our young people."

With that wonderful outdoors flavor

Buried all night in the fragrant embers of the earthen "bean hole"—layers of flavor-rich beans and pork and molasses and sugar. That's the famous old Maine logging camp recipe for the best beans to be found the world over.

Such a flavor—blending the wood smoke of the forests and the fresh, sweet earthen oven. Never was such a flavor known outside the North Woods until now. Van Camp's experts have brought you at your grocers the best beans for your table. Prove them tonight. Empty the can in a buttered baking dish. In a moderate oven 20 minutes. No need to search the far forests for the finest beans. They are here—easy to serve—easy to buy. Two sizes—medium, 15c; large, 25c.

Kipling Was Right!

Life Of Chinese-American Boy Bears Out Poet's Contentment That East Is East

BILLY QUAM

By Central Press.
EVANSVILLE, Ind. Nov. 15—"East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet."

Even mother love is not so strong that it can overcome the truth of that quotation from Kipling.

Billy Quam, 11-year-old Chinese-American ward of the Pike county orphanage, near here, has learned that Kipling was right. And Billy, learning, demonstrated another truth—that there may be a love stronger than mother love.

For is not Billy's stronger. Did he not say to his mother, "Yes, I'll forfeit a mother's love and tenderness and solicitude and care that you may be happy?" As you shall see.

East-West Romance.
From the comfortable home of a cultured mid-west family in 1916 there came to one of America's colleges a girl of 17. Neither the girl nor the college must be named because Billy cherishes his secret.

In the same college was a young Chinese student, a brilliant youth who looked upon the white beauty of the girl, loved, and won her heart. They were married.

Two years later Billy was born. But before that, even as the honeymoon was waning, all was not well between the Oriental husband and his American girl-bride.

Her husband was unkind, she said, and the time came when they must separate. One day she learned that her husband had left his home taking their infant son with him.

What happened to Billy in the first seven years of his life is not known in detail. He only knows that his father traveled from place to place and that the boy was boarded out with families here and there. Then, he said that New Castle has played about three good games this year and that they should have two more good games left in them. "The Greensburg team still recalls the trimming we gave them last year and they are coming here to even up. So everybody can rely on the game being a hard fought one between two teams," he added.

He made it known that the fans, and students will have to be in tip top form in the way of spirit as the team will need it. The coach ended by saying that if everybody gets behind the team, the game will end in favor of the local gridgers.

Next speaker called on was Attorney Edward Logan, who was captain of the New Castle team back in 1904. He described the time when New Castle school played three games and called it a season. Of the time when suits were trousers cut short. By playing under such facilities the members of the school showed school spirit. "Ever since then the spirit has been as good if not better, the local attorney stated. "Let's keep this spirit up tomorrow, by getting behind that team and showing them that we want them to win," he said.

Mr. Logan ended his speech by stating that he believes the team can do better than they have done so far this season, and that he hopes they will show it tomorrow. Following Logan's talk the "thundering herd" of the high school gave another good exhibition of cheering and singing which could be heard far off. Ralph Brice was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Robert Sypher and George Palus.

The students first gave a very good exhibition of school spirit by cheering, when they saw the members of the grid team on the stage. The school song was sung. Ralph Brice, the high school cheerleader, explained to the students that lots of spirit and pep will be needed to win tomorrow's game. He also explained that letters will be formed in the cheering section of the students. The letters N. C. and G. H. will be formed. This being done under the auspices of the student council of the school, Brice first called on acting captain George Binder. He stated that cheering will mean a lot to the boys. He said that if school spirit is demonstrated he feels sure that all the boys will put all they have to win from Greensburg. Miss Emily Parker of the school student council spoke on school spirit. She cited that school spirit should be shown tomorrow whether New Castle wins or loses.

Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh was next called on. The coach feels that a team has five good games in their system during a grid season and four years ago, he was brought to Otwell, a small Pike county town, and was placed in the care of Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons.

His father left, but his checks came regularly to the Simmons and, on occasion, he returned to visit his son. But the visits were few, and soon, without warning, the checks ceased to come.

Although the Simmons had become attached to their little Oriental child there were other children in the household and an extra mouth to feed proved a burden. So they turned Billy over to the county.

The Reunion.
The mother, divorced and remarried, still felt a sense of loss. Then she learned, recently, through a newspaper article, about the Chinese orphan in Pike county, Indiana.

She came, held Billy again to her breast. She wept as she took him in her arms and Billy, for the first time in his memory, knew the tenderness of a mother's embrace.

Two full days these two shared each other's devotion. Then Billy learned that his mother was to leave, that he was to become an orphan again. She could not, she explained, because of her secure social standing, because of new found friends, take to her home a Chinese boy. Would Billy understand?

He did. And with the philosophic calm and fatalism of the Oriental he accepted the newer life that had been created for him.

So Billy goes about the orphanage with a big secret in his heart. His secret and his mother's. He loved this strange woman that had come to find him. Would he bring sorrow into her life, she who had been so kind as to look for him all these years? Not Billy.

Pep Meeting This Morning

Stirring Meeting At Senior High In Preparation For Game

GREENSBURG HARD FOE FOR SATURDAY

If "pep" was ever generated at a pep meeting in preparation for a big football game such as that which will be played between New Castle and Greensburg High tomorrow, it was at the Senior High this morning when some 1,200 students lead by cheerleader Ralph Brice stirred the high school team in tremendous cheers. Attorney Edward Logan, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, and Acting Captain George Binder made speeches. The students first gave a very good exhibition of school spirit by cheering, when they saw the members of the grid team on the stage. The school song was sung. Persons Injured In Ten Percent Of Auto Mishaps

Few people are aware of the considerable percentage of cases of automobile accidents in which some persons are injured.

The indicated average is a little better than ten percent, according to the records of accidents reported to the police in the past thirty days.

In that period of time there were 149 accidents reported and a total of 18 persons were injured in these accidents. Most of the injuries were of a minor character but in one instance, the injuries resulted in death.

An unfortunate feature of the accidents, is the indication, that a great majority of them could have been avoided.

TARRIO, Mo. Nov. 15.—"This Little Missouri city has gone air-minded—and in a big way."

"This city of some 1,800 souls, has a 'community airplane' so that its citizens might learn to fly."

The Tarkio Flying Club, comprised of a score of business men, recently bought a biplane and hired a pilot-teacher so that everyone that wants to learn to fly a plane may do so.

According to present plans when the student pilots become proficient enough in the art of piloting a plane, they will give lessons to neighbors, buy planes themselves and set up motor ships dealing in airplane accessories.

A hunting accident occurred Monday on the farm of George Seth when Carl Lawrence of Pittsburgh received a load of shot in his leg. Lawrence had taken a shot at a rabbit, and forgetting to put on the safety catch, started crawling through a fence, looking for the rabbit, when the other barrel was discharged, most of the shot entering the calf of his leg. He was taken to Shippery Rock, then to his home in Pittsburgh later in the day.

Sharon Social Club May Be Padlocked

Only One Of Nine Organizations Raided Has Violated Orders Of Injunction

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Of the nine social clubs in Mercer county that have been involved in litigation for a year, since first raided by officers of the district attorney's office, there is but one in serious predicament, the Mannaehor Club of Sharon. Attorney McKay has asked a padlocking order on this club. Testimony supporting and denying his claim has been heard by Judge J. A. McLaughry and the case remains to be decided by order of the court.

Following spectacular raids preliminary injunction proceedings were instituted against all of them. The final hearing was stayed on agreement of members to abide by the ruling of the court in the preliminary order, restraining them from having any liquor on the premises.

The Sharon club, raided since that time, is reported by officers to have been violating the ruling, hence the present status of the case. The Mannaehor Club is the oldest social club in Mercer county. It is said to verge on the century mark in age.

NO CHESTNUTS IN MARKET

County Farm Agent W. S. Hagar explains the failure of the chestnut crop of 1929. A blight destroying the county trees, affecting only chestnut trees, and known as "chestnut blight", accounts for the condition.

For the first time in county history chestnuts have failed to make their appearance in the markets of the county towns.

True, there have been years when the nuts were reduced in quantity, but they have always been available heretofore.

PROVIDE BAIL

Friends of Jason Webster, charged with sheep stealing, arrived at the jail here last evening with $2,500 in money to secure the release of Webster.

While they were out at supper another warrant was served on Webster in jail. The information was made out before Squire T. W. McClain by State Trooper Knudson. Farmers are telephoning in daily now claiming to have lost livestock and asking that Webster be held until investigation can be made. Sheep from two farms have been found already. It is believed that Webster was conducting a wholesale business and that his arrest by state police will clear up a long time series of robberies in this county which have cost farmers $10,000 in stolen sheep, poultry and cattle.

TO SELL BABY BEEF

There are 20 head of year-old beef cattle raised by county stockmen which will be sold for the Christmas market soon.

The "baby beeves" were to have been sold here at the baby beef sale, an annual affair of years, which discontinued this year due to the reduced number of animals for sale. The cattle will be shipped to some city market, probably Pittsburgh, and sold to the highest bidder. Heads of big markets in the Smoky City who have visited these sales and are acquainted with the prime beef raised here will be given first opportunity to buy.

SEEK BAIL REFUND

An order of the county judge will be necessary to secure from the State Highway Department the $2,000 bail forfeited in the case of Abe Russell of Grove City, arrested in 1926 on a drunken driving charge, found guilty at the last term of court and now serving a three-months sentence.

Russell is alleged by officers to have jumped his bail twice. The first time it was $1,000 and he was brought back and then released on $2,000, the amount that his family now asks returned. The money was turned over to the state of Pennsylvania as provided for by law and can only be returned by court order.

ORGANIZE COUNCIL

A young people's council for Mercer and community was organized last evening with the election of Mary McElheney as president, Merle Binger as vice president, Mabel Patterson as secretary, Harry Black as treasurer. Meetings will be held the third Thursday of each month. First meeting will be December 19th.

Witch Hazel Bloom Comes This Month

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15. — November home a fruiting spray in November is far removed from May, but at this season of the year, when autumn's leaves are falling and November's winds leave all trees bare except the cheerful evergreens, there is one little tree in the woodlands of Pennsylvania that brings pleasant memories of the month of flowers. This tree, we are reminded by State Forester Joseph S. Illick, is the Witch-hazel.

Probably no tree in the state so well illustrates lack of familiarity with our native trees. Illick said, for while Witch-hazel is the most common and widely distributed small tree in Pennsylvania, comparatively few persons know that it is the last one to bloom during the year. More than that, it is the only Pennsylvania tree that bears flowers and fruit at the same time. Clusters of the small yellow flowers, with curiously twisted ribbon-like petals, crowd upon the branches laden with ripe nutlets from last year's blossoms, and wave in beauty throughout the entire month of November.

An interesting peculiarity of the fruit, Illick pointed out, is the way the shiny black seeds are discharged from their woody pods. The pod bursts open when ripe and as the contraction of its edges presses upon the enclosed seeds it propels them from five to ten feet or more. Bring witch-hazel known as "divining-rods."

The wood of Witch-hazel is not commercially important, but the leaves and bark are reputed to possess medicinal properties, dating back to their use by the American Indians in the treatment of external inflammations. Whatever the exact chemical nature may be there is no doubt as to its soothing and healing influences, witnessed by the wide demand for witch-hazel extract in the barber shops of the nation.

Among foresters this tree is known as an indicator species for it thrives in moist locations. It is characteristic along streams and swamps and the borders of lakes and ponds, but where it is locally common it apparently reflects good soil moisture. Its state-wide distribution, for it occurs in every county, adds to its value in this respect, but its natural preference for growing in wet places, Dr. Illick points out, does not in any way support the claims of nature seers, who profess the ability to locate hidden springs with the forked twigs of witch-hazel known as "divining-rods."

Bessemer High School Notes

Selection by orchestra.
School song.
Devotions.
Hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers."
Salute to the flag, led by three Boy Scouts.
Accordian solo, Josephine Mazi.
In Flanders Fields, Twila Groce.
America's Answer, Florence Loghrey.
In Flanders Fields (modern version), Mary Fabyanovich.

Orchestra, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Piano selection, "Spirit of Progress," Mr. McGarey.
War songs, school.
Star Spangled Banner, by the school.
Announcement, Mr. Colton.
On Monday evening the local Booster Club held an Armistice Day program in the high school auditorium. On Wednesday afternoon the fourth, fifth and sixth grades gave a program in honor of Education Week. The first, second and third grades celebrated Education Week in the same manner on Thursday afternoon. Both were given in the high school before parents and friends, who have been invited to attend school sessions during this week. On Friday afternoon the final football game of the year will be played with Union high on their New Castle field.

In activity period last Tuesday the Science Club experimented in electrical conductivity and distillation of water. The Girl Scouts Club worked on posters which are to represent the Scout laws. The Arts and Crafts Club, now located in the new annex, studied crayon wall tapestry.

Scienceville, O., high school football team spoiled Bessemer's perfect season record Saturday, Nov. 9th, by gaining a 20-0 victory over the local team on Bessemer field. The Scienceville team has been undefeated for the entire season. The locals fought gamely against heavier opposition, but could not gain consistently. Injuries to players weakened Bessemer's chances to win. The summary:

Congress Will Likely Reduce Income Taxes

Factional Leaders Favor Plan To Reduce Corporation And Individual Taxes

MELLON PLAN MAY PASS BY CHRISTMAS

Banking And Industrial Leaders Unanimously Approve Plan Of Reduction

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Congress rallied strongly today behind the Treasury's proposal to speedily enact tax reduction totalling $160,000,000.

The Treasury plan to cut both corporation and individual income taxes by resolution for the present year and 1930 was pronounced feasible and fair to all classes of taxpayers by the factional leaders.

Action Assured
Rep. Hawley (R) of Oregon, chairman of the house ways and means committee, which must originate the legislation, predicted that the house will pass the resolution by Christmas and senate leaders assure prompt action when it is received by them.

Only the attitude of the Progressive Republicans, who have heretofore favored application of surplus funds to reduction of the public debt, appeared doubtful. Many of them still adhere to this policy.

The Republican and Democratic leaders, however, predicted that there will be such a strong support for the movement on both sides that tax reduction along the lines of the Treasury's proposal, is assured.

Unanimous Approval
New York, Nov. 15.—Unanimous approval was expressed by leaders in the banking and industrial worlds today over the announcement of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in Washington that new tax reduction proposals would be placed before congress in December.

Financiers were confident the announcement would have a beneficial effect on the stock market and the nation as a whole.

"I am in hearty sympathy with what Mr. Mellon has done," declared Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. "I think it is the proper move. It will mean a great deal at this time to American business."

Francis H. Sisson, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company, was equally enthusiastic.

Forward Looking Program
"That is a very interesting and important suggestion," he said, "and one which will be generally approved by business men and business interests. It is an important contribution to the situation, as it shows the confidence of the government in the ability of American business to meet its problems and support the government. This announcement strikes a reassuring note which will be generally welcome."

Percy H. Johnston, president of the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, believes the statement will go a long way toward relieving uneasiness in the industrial and commercial world.

"Mr. Mellon's statement indicates a very forward looking program," he declared. "Business, after the present slump, would have been facing the future with a good deal of uneasiness, but this very constructive program will be a splendid stimulant to business people."

Spokesmen for both parties pointed out that congress has heretofore welcomed the opportunity to slash taxes although many bitter fights have originated over the method. The Hoover administration's new plan, Senator Simmons (D) of North Carolina, said, is exactly in line with the past Democratic policy.

"We can cut taxes and the plan to do it by resolution is entirely feasible," said Chairman Hawley, of the ways and means committee.

"The plan does not contemplate changing of existing law but provides that for two years the treasury shall collect one per cent less than the law provides, by reducing corporation income tax from 12 to 11 per cent and individual income tax from 5.3 and 1 1/2 per cent to 4.2 and one half per cent. This means relief for all taxpayers."

"Tax reduction will be first business of the ways and means committee and probably the first major business of the house. I think we can pass the resolution before Christmas."

Senator Smoot (R) of Utah had given his assent to the plan in conferences, said that the senate will await action by the house.

"Senator Harris and I agreed to the recommendation tentatively," said Senator Simmons, Democratic fiscal leader. "I don't apprehend that there will be any trouble. I feel quite sure that the reduction proposed in normal taxes of corporations and individuals is in line with the policy pursued by the Democrats in consideration of the last revenue bill."

A discordant note was sounded by Senator Norbeck (R) of South Dakota, a "farm bloc" member.

"I have never voted for tax reduction," he said. "I have taken the position that it is better to apply surpluses to reduction of the public debt."

"If we have $160,000,000 surplus it is good business to liquidate that amount of indebtedness," said Senator Allen (R) of Kansas.

"It is fortunate that the country is able to obtain a tax reduction and I am glad that the treasury is in condition to stand it," said Senator Deeney (R) of Illinois, a member of the finance committee.

The general attitude of the Democrats in the senate was shown by Senator Trammell (D) of Florida. He said:

"While not commenting on every detail of the plan Mr. Mellon suggests, in a general way I am favorably impressed with the policy he proposes and, of course, I will give tax reduction my most hearty support."

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

There is a hat check girl on Fifty Sixth street in New York, in a cafe that is crowded at the noon hour, and she handles hundreds of hats without identification tickets. When you start to the door she sees you coming and has your hat in her hand. She never makes a mistake.

It doesn't make any difference what you do, if you do it better than the other fellow you get recognition. This blonde gets bigger tips than any hat check girl I ever heard of just because her efficiency delights her customers. They are willing to blow an extra dime of two, to see a girl step up to a rack full of hats and pick out their hat, though she may never have seen them before.

I've seen stage tricks that were less difficult and not so well done. The blonde attends to her own business and in many months I've never seen her make anything like a glad eye at anybody. Come to think of it, there is a marked indifference toward men on the part of most hat check girls.

They see them coming in, merry and bright, and they see them going out—sometimes in an entirely different condition. They see them throw walters fat tips to impress the ladies, and then slip the hat girl a nickel because the lady doesn't see that. It does give you an estimate of human values.

It has always been a mystery to me why men check hats. Soft felts could be squashed and sat upon. American men aren't fussy about their clothes anyway. If the hat check girl got the money, it would not only be a necessity to check hats, but a pleasure as well. But she usually pours her money into the boss's pockets and he hands her back a few pennies. Hat checking privileges are worth money and are bought on a big scale today. The girls can make it worth more or less, but that doesn't effect their income.

The difficulty with that job is, that when a man comes in after food, his food he has his mind upon. A male headed for the feed bag is never flirtatious. When he has eaten he is in a purring mood, and if made very comfortable, in a big chair, might endure a few caresses. But as for being aggressively flirtatious—never!

The only men who are always aggressively interested in women, are the soda jerkers, who get so sick looking at squeezed oranges and sandwiches that food is no treat to them. (If I'm wrong, write me.) (Copyright 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Simple New Way Does Wonders And Is Kind To Pretty Hands—Use Any Ordinary Soap

Even the most inexpensive table china and glassware can be made to look far better than its price in a simple way. It can be given the brilliancy and sparkle of the most costly kinds; and glassware particularly is judged by its sparkle.

Simply add one teaspoonful of the cleansing preparation called CLIMALENE to your water. Use the same soap you ordinarily do, but use only ONE-FOURTH the usual quantity. Wash as usual.

Captured Robber Confesses Crimes

(International News Service) SCARSDALE, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Michael Cubas, 33, wanted in Pennsylvania on seven burglary indictments, confessed to Police Chief William Short here Thursday that he robbed more than two hundred homes in Westchester county.

To Make Even Inexpensive Glass and China Sparkle

Most hotels use this method to make glass and china gleam. Housewives like it not only for this reason, but because it acts to soften and whiten skin fabric of the hands.

Results are surprising. Try it. Get at any grocery store in 10c or 25c package. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

Colorado Girls Get New Rules At University

Traditions As Old As School To Be Changed Under New Order

SATURDAY ONLY BATH ELIMINATED

By M. F. DACEY
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
DENVER, Nov. 15.—At the University of Colorado, at Boulder, a new dictum laid down by Lydia L. Brown, dean of women and social arbiter at the university, will change traditions as old as the university and some of them as old as the calendar.

Among other things, the Saturday bath, as traditional as Saturday itself, has been relegated to the scrapheap. Under the new regulations freshmen women must live in freshmen houses, and these houses "must have plenty of hot water for a bath a day for everybody"—in utter disregard of the Saturday only bath.

No Rule for Boys
While the bath regulations make no mention of upper classmen, it is assumed that, after a year, cleanliness becomes habitual. If it doesn't they should know better.

The boys who fire furnaces for room and board aren't so happy over the turn of affairs. Co-ed houses must be kept at a 70 degree temperature.

Apparently male students are made of sterner stuff than co-eds. There is no rule governing the temperature of their bath water, house or the number of baths needed. Even a shave in cold water is permissible. The new rule about telephones is the most unkind cut of all. The women are up in arms over it. It deprives them, they declare of their inalienable, constitutional rights.

The regulation places a five minute time limit on telephone calls of co-eds and decrees they shall speak on the phone not at all after 11 p. m.

Limit Phone Calls
There are so many girls in each house that if no ban is placed on telephone calls only a few girls will be able to use the "phones," says the Dean.

This leaves the girls with nothing to do but study after 11 p. m. No first-year women may have dates on week nights. Those of higher learning may stay out until 10 p. m., on week nights and must be in the houses by 12:30 Friday and Saturday.

New Camera Is Speediest In World

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 15.—One billionth of a second!

A speed so great that it means nothing to the human eye. So amazing as to be beyond the ability of any purely mechanical contrivance to achieve.

Accomplished with a spectroscopic camera shutter.

A camera that is able to take pictures of the action of light at various periods during the course of an electrical spark which lasts one hundred thousandth of a second.

Perfection of the camera, proclaimed an outstanding accomplishment in the field of physics, was announced today at the University of California. The Berkeley scientists have been able to show by photographic evidence that the magnetic field developed by the passage of an electrical current across the spark gap, gives the first light emitted a different appearance from that emitted a few millionths of a second later.

English Film Men Plan India Colony

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 15.—A scheme to build a miniature Hollywood in India is being fostered by a group of English film magnates.

They have completed plans for the erection of huge up-to-date studios near Calcutta and intend to use the magnificent Indian scenery as a natural background for the majority of their films.

It is reported that they have secured the services of D. W. Griffith, as well as Monte Blue, Betty Compson and James Cruze.

One of the chief aims of the enterprise is to break the American film monopoly in India.

37 Acres New Land Made For Boston

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Engaged for more than a year in the process of "making land where water once flowed," the Boston and Maine railroad has added to the physical geography of Greater Boston, a million cubic yards of new land, constituting an area of thirty-seven acres, an area greater than all of Boston Common. Even with this enormous amount of man made land completed, still another area, one third as great, still remains to be filled in, a task which will require an additional 1,455,000 cubic yards of fill.

The filling of the millionth cubic yard was marked by the presence of President George H. Hanauer and Chief Engineer W. J. Backes of the railroad.

The "filling in" process embraces parts of Cambridge, Somerville and Boston, and was created from the Charles and Millers Rivers.

Negro Sings His Way Out Of Jail

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Nov. 15.—Edgar Baker, a negro, sang his way clear of a prison sentence here.

Discovered too close to a whiskey still, he was taken before U. S. Commissioner E. S. Griffith.

The negro protested he was unaware of the still's presence until he heard federal agents singing a familiar air as they they approached the liquor outlay.

"As you know the song so well," said the commissioner, "suppose you sing it to the court."

"Then the negro burst forth with 'Pass Around the Bottle.'"

He was released.

20 French Persons Drown Every Day

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 15.—Twenty French persons drown every day during the bathing season, according to the "Echo de Paris" which says there should be more stringent regulations regarding lifeguards and proprietors of bath-houses.

A majority of the victims are school-children who venture beyond their depth although they cannot swim well.

The percentage is a large one considering the fact that in general, the French are not so fond of water.

Yields Ancient Secrets

(International News Service)

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, Nov. 15.—

The excavations at the ancient Roman military camp near Saalburg which has just been ended for this year have uncovered the remains of a building some 55 by 75 feet, containing 16 rooms. Most of the rooms were heated by the hypocaust system in which hot air was conveyed from a furnace through earthenware pipes into the rooms and through the walls.

One room contained washbowl. The building was probably the official dwelling of the Roman commander. A great number of flat tiles were also found bearing the stamp of the 22d legion. They were baked in Nied, near Frankfort-Hoechst.

Lloyd Lewis and Henry Justin Smith tell of the origin of the word in "Chicago: The History of Its Reputation" just published. The "cop" dates back to the 50's when Chicago was young. But even in its youth Chicago was a hard-boiled village. One of its mayors at the time was John C. Haines known as "Copperstock" Haines because he played the stock market. His busy police were nicknamed by the Chicago citizens "coppers"—and soon after the whole country adopted the term in speaking of their guardians of the law.

Hours later Mrs. Jordan recovered her memory and sheepishly explained that she had been motoring with her husband and had been bounced out of the rumble seat.

SWEET MUSIC Soothes Breasts of JAILBIRDS

Missouri Welfare Workers and other volunteers find prisoner audiences at the chapel entertainments highly appreciative -- Some inmates who "join in" the choruses are talented singers and entertainers.

YOU go through one heavy iron-grated door with an immense lock into an iron-grated white-tiled inclosure. Then a similarly grated and locked elevator door is opened and you go up six floors where iron gratings seem to be the chief form of decoration. Through the iron grated doors at the elevator shaft on each floor you catch a glimpse of heavy locked doors and more iron gratings.

There is never a dearth of "home talent" at the entertainments in the Municipal Jail. One of the prisoners is shown doing the Charleston, while a cellmate accompanies him.

The Municipal Jail audience is said to be a very appreciative one. At the front are two members of the Jolly Jesters Minstrels, who volunteered their services to entertain the prisoners and George H. Hall, Jr., a Missouri Welfare League worker. A jail guard is seated on the side.

(By St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

the municipal jail, but you are in its entertainment hall as well. And here, on Monday and Thursday afternoons, when the chapel becomes the Workhouse, the Boonville Reformatory, Jefferson City or Leavenworth to serve out short or long sentences; and some who will be under a death sentence will wish that they might go with the men in chains, even if it be for a life sentence. But whatever the charges "Al-against them, whatever crime they ways?" Miss Messmer asks. There is a chorus of "yes" and the audience lets out lusty voices to the re- will deal them. To all of them the municipal jail is but a temporary residence until they are tried. "What," you ask the Missouri welfare workers in charge of the entertainments, "do these men like in the way of entertainment, or are they at all responsive?"

Every worker and entertainer will have the same answer. "They like almost anything, and they are the most appreciative audience in the world."

Jail Is "Confining."

A single visit to the entertainments confirms that statement. The Warden, F. J. Primavera, takes you up to the chapel. By the time you have passed through the necessary number of locked doors you have begun to feel that the jail, despite the whiteness of its tiled walls, the sunlight and its bare cleanliness, is depressingly confining even outside of the prisoners tiers.

On the sixth floor you suddenly forget about the iron grating as you are met by the strains of "Valencia" sung by more than a hundred voices. That does not sound very jail-like. There is as much enthusiasm in the voices as in some high school assembly; and something of the same careless disregard of everything but the rhythm of the song that one hears in an ordinary high school assembly is apparent in the chapel of the city jail.

Your step quickens in your desire to see who it is that is singing. The assembly hall you find is well filled—three or four rows of negroes in the back and white men in the rows all the way to the very first row. There are perhaps 150 men altogether—many of them surprisingly young. Here and there you find an older face, but you must search for it. Up and down the rows are faces of men under 25; few are past 30.

Sing Favorites.

Miss Ida Messmer one of the Missouri Welfare League workers gets up from the piano and announces that the "Volga Boat Song," a favorite with the boys, will be the next song. You wonder what the effect of more serious music will be. But Harrison narcotic act, the Mann act. Some may leave the jail free men; others will leave in chains for the Workhouse, the Boonville Reformatory, Jefferson City or Leavenworth to serve out short or long sentences; and some who will be under a death sentence will wish that they might go with the men in chains, even if it be for a life sentence. But whatever the charges "Al-against them, whatever crime they ways?" Miss Messmer asks. There is a chorus of "yes" and the audience lets out lusty voices to the re- will deal them. To all of them the municipal jail is but a temporary residence until they are tried. "What," you ask the Missouri welplause is as enthusiastic as their singing.

Then they have more songs, many of them sentimental numbers. "Chinese Lullaby," "What Can I Say After I Say I'm Sorry?" "Hello, Aloha, How Are You?" "The Sunset Trail of Gold" are sung, and toward the end of the session "The End of a Perfect Day." The same enthusiasm is apparent throughout. The chapel became the place of enjoyment in the front row still sway to the rhythm of the songs.

Intelligent Faces.

You are surprised by the number of alert, intelligent faces, and you wonder with what crimes these young men are charged.

Then some of the jail talent comes to the front. A negro does the Charleston, and does it better than many a stage performer, while another negro accompanies him at the piano. Another song, then the trustees and Mr. Hall and Mrs. Ella MacNally, another welfare worker, collect the song books and the mimeographed copies of the popular songs, and the session is ended. The prisoners file out a few rows at a time as the guard calls the respective floors, and go back to their tiers.

The programs vary. Mrs. George Parker, who leads the entertainment on Monday afternoons, usually has outside talent, and has very little of the community singing. But whether entertainer be singer, violinist or elocutionist, he or she is sure of an appreciative audience at the municipal jail.

If the men's enthusiastic participation in these entertainments is surprising, their tastes are more so. Hymns and religious songs are preferred by the negroes, while popular music is a hit with the white men. But with both, music leads over any other form of entertainment at the jail, just as it does at the workhouse entertainments or those at the penitentiary, which Mr. Hall also attends. However, a more serious type of music frequently is just as popular as the jazz numbers. One Hall says, asked that "Humoresque" played on the violin, he repeated, and said that it was his favorite piece of music.

Nor is there a dearth of talent among the prisoners. Hall cites the case of the man in jail on a charge of using the mails to defraud in some get-rich-quick scheme, who would ask to sing at these entertainments. Each time he would sing "O Solo Mio" in Italian. There was also the highway robber who had a very fine voice. This man, now serving a prison sentence at Jefferson City, chose "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" as his solo. Hall can tell of actors, charged with violations of the narcotic act, who were fine entertainers.

The entertainments at the municipal jail began with the singing of Christmas carols outside of the tiers a year ago last Christmas. It was almost hard, however, for the singers to make the prisoners join in the singing without song books and because of the bad acoustics in the tiers. So the chapel became the place of enjoyment in the front row still sway to the rhythm of the songs.

"Some of the men don't come up," the warden says, "but most of them are glad of a chance to get out of their cells. A few of the soreheads wonder with what crimes these young men are charged. The younger ones turn out almost 100 per cent."

The warden was asked if a man who was sentenced to die ever went to these entertainments. He said he could cite several cases of men who were under death sentence and had appealed their cases, who were regular attendants.

"You must remember," he said, "that these men are always hopeful that they will get off at the last minute, and they never give up hope until they are placed under the death watch."

The audience proves that it is appreciative, since the welfare workers say that it is never boisterous. When the guard calls "floor two" or "floor three," it may mean the last time at the entertainments in the municipal jail for some of the audience. The League do not know which faces they will miss at the next session. No questions are asked. Audiences come and go as the law takes its course.

His Revenge.

A young man, while buying a ticket for the pantomime, was rudely brushed aside by three flappers, who got their tickets first. By chance the young man got the seat next to them.

"If there is any young lady in the audience who thinks she could learn to love me," said the comedian during one of the acts, "will she please stand up?"

The young man said to the flappers: "Will you let me pass out, please?"

The girls stood up at once, and the audience roared. The youth was revenged.

"Now we'll play at cinema theaters," said little Joan. "You can be the attendant."

"All right," agreed tiny Tom. "You be the lady who reads titles out loud."

"Why?" asked the girl. "So that I can throw you out."

KEEPING UP with CREDIT CROOKS

TO the right, mister, is Slick Ketchum, alias Aleck Stringem, alias John Jones, alias Sam Smith, alias Alfred Bokum, and also known as Slip Keen," the guide in the federal prison bent down and whispered into the ear of the nearest of the sight-seers about him. "Known to be one of the shrewdest commercial crooks in the country," he added proudly.

"You don't say," commented a sight-seer.

"Yeh. There's another one in the cell next to his."

"Looks like a retired farmer or Sunday school teacher," observed the sight-seer.

"Say, man," said the guide, poking the sight-seer in the ribs, "you can't go by their looks. That's what their creditors did. We got two more like him in this prison. One looks like a bank president."

"How do they get that way?" the visitor grinned.

"Ask Credit Man. They can't laugh that off," the callous guide answered flippantly.

The credit men do not laugh it off, guide or no guide, prison or no prison. Not when they have raised a fund of a million and a half dollars to fight the commercial crooks, do they intend to laugh it off.

And such prison scenes as the above are not a defrauded creditor's dream, but an ever-increasing reality, calculated to put a damper on what was becoming a popular American indoor sport costing millions of dollars a year. No one knows better than the credit men of the country how, with the growth of his business, certain sporting gentlemen have found playing the business man as exciting a pastime as highway robbery or bootlegging, and more suited to their particular talents. It is a pleasant little game for the sporting gentleman while it lasts. When he finishes he charges expenses to the creditors, and says "now you chase me" or words to that effect. But since creditors have a marked aversion to playing that way they frequently, if their erstwhile playmate has not had too good a start, do chase him—into prison.

A Fund of $1,500,000 Has Been Raised to Fight These Busy "Business Men" Who Have Been Defrauding Honest Firms of Millions of Dollars Annually

There was, for example, right here the case of one Sam Giles, whose activities, Orville Livingston, president of the St. Louis Association of Credit Men, cites as representative of the slippery gentry. This Same Giles operated a general retail store in Waverly, Mo., for a period of four months. At the end of that time, he suddenly disappeared, leaving in his store a very small amount of assets and several thousand dollars indebtedness.

Since many St. Louis creditors suffered heavily in this failure they requested the St. Louis Association of Credit Men to start an investigation immediately. The investigator on the job found evidence that caused him to believe that the eminent Giles had also been known in other markets as Sam Gillis, Harry Boss, Bennie Ellis, H. Glass, Henry Heller, Bernard Gillis, and other aliases. And further, it was found that a shipment of merchandise was in transit to Lincoln, Neb., consigned to S. Gillis. So the investigator went to Lincoln to await the claimant for the shipment, and in due time a man representing himself as S. Gillis called for it. S. Gillis was promptly arrested and lodged in jail in Lincoln. Subsequently the investigator obtained a confession from Gillis, giving his operations under his various aliases in different small towns throughout the central states.

Crafty "Gillis."

The crafty Gillis thought he had a good scheme and had been working it since 1908, defrauding his creditors in sixteen years of more than $200,000.

He would carefully select a location, usually in a small town near a market where he was not known personally. He would rent a store, deposit a few hundred dollars in the bank, and in a few days receive a shipment of merchandise with which to open for business. The town hailed a new merchant and he hailed the rating agencies and made a fine financial statement to them, showing some $2,500 stock, money in the bank and no liabilities, and setting forth the information that he had previously been a salesman for various firms.

Then Gillis would go slow on his activities until his financial statement was made available to the wholesalers in his market. When he made his first appearance in the local market he bought a substantial amount of merchandise and, like a most honest man, paid cash. Within 30 or 60 days he again bought merchandise, but took advantage of the confidence he had established to buy on terms, which he discounted, thus further establishing himself in the confidence of the market.

The next time Gillis bought he did so in large quantities. He did not bother discounting his bills then. Instead he conveniently disappeared and the large quantities of merchandise he had recently purchased disappeared with him. Gillis has a system of removing his merchandise which he used consistently. He would have it removed through the rear entrance of the store at night, hauled to another town and then invariably shipped to Chicago. He would later call for the merchandise in person, have it drayed to another railroad and shipped to some other division point, where it would remain until he had selected a new location and a new name under which to operate.

All this business acumen was rewarded with three and a half years in Atlanta. And there is no record of Gillis having laughed that off. This is just one of the schemes practiced by the credit crooks. A very popular one just now. Livingston says, is using almost the same name as a company in good standing. For instance, there may be some company in business and in good standing calling itself the St. Louis Mercantile Company. The commercial crook appears on the scene and starts out under the name of the St. Louis Mercantile Agency in another part of the city. He places his orders with out-of-town firms and the latter, looking up his rating, find that the firm has a very high rating. The financial rating companies do not give street addresses, so that the new firm is mistaken for the old, and goods are shipped to the imposter freely. When creditors begin to get impatient for payment, the enterprising gentleman quietly disappears to a new territory.

Most Common Game.

But the most common method by which this "business man" enriches himself, according to credit men, is by issuing false financial statements and by "buying for a bust." Issuing false financial statements is nothing more than presenting the creditor with doctored financial statements, listing non-existent assets—a method which is, by the way, not exclusively used by crooks.

Buying with a view toward fixing up a fraudulent bankruptcy is, however, always an act of malice and forethought, since the buyer disposes of the goods secretly, pockets the profit and, failing to pay his creditor, passes the loss on to them through fraudulent bankruptcy proceedings.

There are variations of these basic methods that include the dealings of the single petty trader getting away with a few thousand dollars to conspire of nationally organized gangs, who have corporations in different cities. If the credit crook is not always a man of great moral courage, he is a man very often, of some ingenuity.

His ingenuity has cost creditors in St. Louis alone $2,500,000 annually, the amount it is estimated that wholesalers and jobbers lose through credit frauds, including fraudulent insolvency and bankruptcy cases.

Sit Up Nights.

"It can almost be said that the credit crooks sit up nights thinking up ways to cheat the creditors," Livingston declares. "It is said that the losses due to credit frauds in 1925 are unprecedented. The credit men of St. Louis are convinced that the greater part of the annual loss through this source is preventable. As a result a systematic campaign to combat the credit crook is now in operation."

This campaign, it is hoped, will save millions of dollars annually for St. Louis institutions, and will bring to justice the greatest possible number of criminals. It proposes to educate the business community regarding proper safeguards to take against the activities of credit criminals, and to elevate the standards of credit operations throughout the country generally. And it is, of course, calculated to intimidate credit criminals and put a curb on any further operations.

And the many ways of sypping the creditors through a period of honest business, then a fraudulent bankruptcy, is a story in itself. It's a sad, sad story that the reference in bankruptcy hears from the crooked bankrupt.

And since highway robbery threatened to become a "piker's" game as compared to commercial fraud, the business man resented being the goat. He was learning the tricks of the commercial trickster at his own expense. So when the National Association of Credit Men raised a fund of $1,500,000 and organized a credit protection department to fight commercial fraud, it was one of the results of the business man's determination to make it uncomfortable for the credit crook, just as the association took means to help the business man protect himself through the credit information from the creditors' ledgers and other methods.

During the year that the credit protection department has been in existence it has accepted 754 cases; obtained 398 indictments, and 74 persons have been convicted with sentences totaling 105 years, and fines totaling $56,906.

Evidently the credit men are not "laughing it off."

"Why Dottie, you are all freckled." "Oh, Tottie, how unromantic you are! I'm sun-kissed."

Orville Livingston, president of the St. Louis Association of Credit Men, has to keep up to date on all the ingenious schemes the credit crook uses to defraud the creditor. And it's a full time job, since the credit crooks seem to sit up nights devising schemes.

Shrink not from strife unequal! With the best is always hope;

And ever in the sequel God holds the right side

Issues Orders To Arrest Owners Of Unapproved Cars

Machines On Road After Friday Must Have Stickers

RULE APPLIES TO EXAMINATIONS ALSO

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—Captain Wilson C. Price, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, has issued orders to the several hundred members of the patrol, directing the arrest November 16 of all persons operating motor cars which do not bear the "approved, inspected" windshield sticker.

"Since late in the summer owners and drivers of motor vehicles have been hearing about this inspection campaign," said Motor Vehicle Commissioner Benjamin G. Eynon, "official inspection stations have been in operation since October 1. The period in which inspection is to be made will end November 15. After that date an unapproved, unapproved car or truck will operate illegally, if it operates at all; therefore the patrol has been directed to arrest violators of the law."

Up to Monday of this week approximately 1,400,000 cars and trucks had been examined and approved, reports show. The owners of 400,000 others had shown no inclination to obey the law enacted by the 1929 Legislature. This law provides that a car unapproved November 15 is not legally to be operated in Pennsylvania between November 15 and December 15.

Examinations Refused
Motor patrolmen at all examining stations in Pennsylvania have been directed to refuse to examine applicants for drivers' licenses who present themselves in unapproved cars.

"I see no reason why patrol officers should endanger their lives in cars not mechanically fit—and a car not inspected and approved may be mechanically unfit," said Captain Wilson C. Price. "Whether it is or not, we examine no applicants appearing in unapproved cars."

Two Thousand "Bad Ones"
Of the cars so far examined by the official stations, approximately 2,000 have been refused an "approved" sticker, their condition mechanically being terrible, and their drivers refusing to have the work done on brakes or lamps, which would have placed them in good condition. Owners of these cars within a day or so will receive a communication from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, directing that within a certain named period they have their cars inspected, or run the risk of having their licenses revoked.

No Extension of Time
There will be no extension of time for the examination of cars. The Governor's proclamation declared the inspection period to be October 1 and end November 15. The owner or driver arrested November 17 may be arrested and fined again if he is operating on November 20.

"The law is presumed to mean what it says," said Commissioner Eynon. "This particular law is important because it affects the safety of all road and highway users. We propose seeing that it is enforced."

Night Typewriting Class Is Started

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. Nov. 15.—Local residents will be given the opportunity to learn to typewrite if they choose to take advantage of the night class which has been organized at the high school.

The class, which is under the direction of Miss Catherine Porter, of the commercial department, will meet every Wednesday and Friday evenings. Last evening the first meeting was held with an attendance which denotes great interest in the project.

New System Helps Provide More Low Numbers For Autos

Plenty Of Small Numbers Will Be Seen On Roads This Year

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—The pleased expression on many Pennsylvania faces these days can be attributed to the fact that upon examining their license tags for 1930 car owners discovered that the tag numbers are lower than they ever hoped to possess. Because of the new system of numbering adopted for 1930 plates, 26,000 Pennsylvania cars will bear tags having three numerals or letters and 134,000 will have four character plates.

"In this proposition it is 'first come first served' with a vengeance," said Commissioner Benjamin G. Eynon of the Motor Vehicle bureau. "For another month at least it will be possible for applicants to get low tags, but not all tags issued will be low because of the method of distribution. Each of 20 letters of the alphabet heads a series and as these letters are reached low numbers are a natural consequence."

"In the tag room on the last day of October I observed that K-tags were being issued—such tags as K-98, K-104 and so on. The letter following will be J of course. The numerals following each letter run to 9999 and the ten-thousandth tag in the J series is J-9999. So it will be seen that remembering one's number will be much easier in 1930 than ever before."

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has issued more 1930 tags to date than it ever issued before for an ensuing year. Principally for the reason that many thousands of Pennsylvanians discovered that early application meant a very low tag number.

Teach Commerce Subjects In 483 Of High Schools

Courses Available To 80 Per Cent Of Enrollment In State

Twenty-six per cent of the pupils in Lawrence County high schools are enrolled in courses teaching commercial subjects, according to statistics compiled by the Department of Public Instruction.

The number is a fair average for industrial communities, and is exceeded by few other counties.

According to the statistics, there are now 4,145 pupils in county high schools between the 9th and 12th grades, 1,110 of whom are enrolled in commercial curriculum. This is 26.8 per cent of the total enrollment.

In all, there are 483 high schools in Pennsylvania, in which commercial subjects are taught, so that four-fifths of all pupils enrolled in secondary institutions have opportunities to secure some form of business training.

The number of commercial students has grown from 952 in the entire state in 1893 to 72,684 for 1929.

Montour county with only 386 pupils in high schools, has 45.6 per cent enrolled in commercial subjects. Four counties, Wyoming, Sullivan, Fulton, and Forest counties, have no commercial provisions.

County Federation Of Women's Clubs

Of Women's Clubs

The Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs:

To Mrs. Charles Greer, the president of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, who is sad today over the parting from one so dear, there goes an outpouring of sympathy from all the women of the Federation.

That the life of the brother just departed, was so closely allied with the educational program of our city gives us pause—to consider the value of that institution with which life is entwined.

Because men and women have been willing to give unselfishly of their time and ability we have in New Castle an educational plant that is outstanding for its simple yet commanding architectural structure and for its adequate equipment.

Not for the pleasure that it brings to the eye nor for the comfort that it does out to our civic pride is it of value to our city. Of untold value is it because standing in the corridors and in every class room are the carefully selected educators brought here by our school board.

They are there ready to greet our children, our youths with hearts that understand the vagaries of the child and the dream and ambitions of youth; with minds trained to grapple with the thoughts and visions of that period of development of the coming man or woman, and turn them into ways of purpose, of usefulness, of understanding and bring to us finally a group of educated citizens.

To ally ourselves with this worthy institution with every effort that is needed to insure its continued usefulness to the community should be the unselfish purpose of every citizen of New Castle.

To recognize the value of our educational force and to turn that force into a still mightier instrument for advancement and enlargement of life by placing back of it our time and energy and influence is the challenge that should go out to every woman of the Federated clubs.

Freight Conductor In Odd Railway Record

(International News Service)
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 15.—More than 3,000 miles averaging 130 miles per day, was traveled in 23 days by F. L. Lynch, a conductor on a Central Vermont railway through train, believed by railway officials here to establish a record for New England.

Conductor Whitcomb's average day of work was seven hours and 20 minutes and he covered his territory at an average rate of 15.65 miles per hour.

He handled during that period 2,381 cars, with an average of 103 cars per train. Total tonnage handled amounted to 70,468 or 3,064 tons per train. The average ton miles per train were 49,000, while the total length of all cars handled was 20 miles.

Orders Arrest Of 131 Who Violated Food Regulations

Lawrence County Dealers Among Those Prosecuted By State

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—A total of 131 prosecutions for pure food law violations was ordered during October, according to the monthly report of the bureau of foods and chemistry, Pennsylvania department of agriculture. These prosecutions occurred throughout the commonwealth, but were heaviest in the southeastern section.

Selling stale eggs as fresh resulted in 27 prosecutions, the largest number for a single law violation. Milk deficient in fat and solids brought 14 prosecutions, and jelly, used in jelly doughnuts and rolls, adulterated and misbranded caused 10 prosecutions. Altogether, there were 29 counties involved in the food law violations. These were Allegheny, Berks, Blair, Bucks, Cambria, Carbon, Chester, Clarion, Clearfield, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Erie, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lawrence, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montgomery, Northampton, Northumberland, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Somerset, Venango, Washington, Westmoreland and York.

NILE HOUSEBOAT OWNERS IN FIGHT ON $50 TAX

(International News Service)
CAIRO, Nov. 15.—Houseboat owners rebellion against the government. An annual tax of $50 is demanded of them for the privilege of conducting their households on these historical waters. And these doughty riders of the waves refusing to pay.

They claim that only land is taxable and that they live in boats, technically speaking, and can't be made to pay.

The authorities are meeting this argument with the threat of moving the houseboats, or dahabias, as they are called, to a point outside the city area.

Wm. W. Ayer Speaks On Homes Of Today

Scores The Worldly Influences In The Homes Instead Of Christianity

"The homes of today have been burglarized by the forces of sin," asserted Pastor William W. Ayer of the First Baptist church, Salacious magazines, sensuous music, much that comes over the radio, and the social customs of the day," he continued, "have invaded the home which was once a bulwark against the powers of darkness."

"Worldliness and other-worldliness," was the speaker's theme, based on I John 2:15-17, and the story of Lot in the book of Genesis. "The card table and the family altar cannot co-exist in the home," said Mr. Ayer, who challenged anyone to produce a case where they did. "Many mothers insist that their daughters dance in order that they might be graceful, but it is better to have the grace of God in the heart than to have grace in the heels."

"Lot had influence in Sodom," he observed, "but Abraham had power with God." "Lot looked at the well watered plains toward Sodom," remarked the preacher, "while Abraham looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

The other Baptist churches of the city were special guests. The members of the Bethlehem (German) Baptist and the Hungarian churches each sang a hymn in their own language which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Mrs. R. T. Morris, as a representative of the Emmanuel Baptist church, sang a very impressive solo. A duet was rendered by Mrs. Harry Cook and Charles L. Pombelle.

Tonight the young people will be special guests. Mr. Ayer will speak on "Youth and Debauched Vessels." A prize will be given to the person bringing the largest number of neighbors to the service. There will be no service Saturday night.

school which must be an interesting one. Instead of getting everything from a book, the instructor believes in taking the youngsters out to see for themselves just what it is all about and somehow it seems to me that this is just about the best way of learning.

The class is "Problems in Democracy," taught by Miss Elsie Calvin. Last night the youngsters were down at the school board to see what makes the wheels go round and from the amount of notes they took they might have been covering the meeting for a newspaper.

And for tomorrow, customers, if you want to see a real football game, the stadium is the place. This Greenburg outfit is nursing a large black eye received last season on their own lot and how they are thirsting for revenge is nobody's business.

(Special To The News)

Following the dinner several addresses were made stressing the diverse advantages of belonging to the U. C. T. At the close of the meeting seven men declared their intention to join the organization.

The New Castle men who were present at the meeting and through whose efforts it was made a success were James Francis, W. G. Rice, J. H. Ellmore, N. H. Blews, John Louer, Mr. Colnot, Ray Hall and C. A. Bookover.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

At first it sounded as though somebody had dropped a carload of cans down a corrugated chute. A big bump, then a lot of little bumps and rattles, and then silence. It was near a street intersection, and by a process of mental arithmetic and mental telepathy some smart egg deduced the idea that it was an automobile wreck.

It was, and how. What had been a good bit of a wreck before the crash, was now in a sad way. The one running board had folded up like a carpenter's ruler. The front axle was twisted back under the hood as though it were trying to hide, and the fender had bowed its head in grief.

Just another case of poor judgment. An attempted turn off a street with another car coming against him. No license plate on the front of the car, no driver's license and no inspection sticker on the windshield.

All of which reminds you of the fact that today, November 15, is the last day to get your car inspected. If you haven't had it done by tonight, it's going to be just sad.

Seems like other folks are on the sucker list for Christmas cards. A pamphlet has come to this column dealing with the subject and it looks as though there wasn't any secret about it. You might as well read it. Have you been bothered by receiving unordered boxes of merchandise through the mail?

Many people in this vicinity have received such boxes through the mail with a request for $1 in payment for them.

The following quotation from a bulletin issued by the New Castle Better Business bureau gives a line on the true values sometimes represented by these articles and outlines your rights in handling them.

"Several packages of such unordered merchandise, which the senders claimed to be $1.50 values for $1, disclosed the average replacement price to be approximately 50 cents."

"You do not have to pay for such articles. You do not have to return them. Just put them aside. If an authorized agent calls for them you may give them to him. If he doesn't call within a reasonable length of time you may CHARGE STORAGE for the bother you've been put to in keeping them."

Gas In Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use Of Bisulphate
Magnesia To Overcome Trouble
Caused By Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

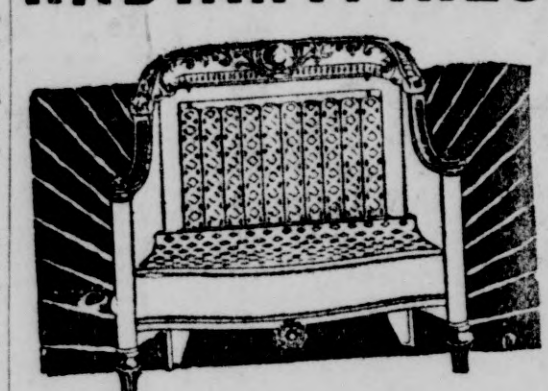

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect from any stomach acids. Instead get from any drugstore a little Bisulphate Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloating right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisulphate Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid form) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Congressmen Will Get Mileage Whether They Make Journey Or Not

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—On Monday morning, December 2, when the regular session of Congress convenes, Uncle Sam will pass out to his congressmen mileage checks to cover their traveling expenses to Washington, even though many of them have been here all fall.

Recess or no recess between sessions, the law provides that senators and representatives are entitled to their 20 cents a mile traveling allowance. For some of them the allowance is only a few dollars. For others, it is well over a thousand dollars.

For each session of Congress regular or special, the members of Congress are entitled to mileage. At the beginning of the special session they received expenses to Washington and their expenses home again.

Now, when the regular session starts, they receive more mileage, whether or not the two sessions overlap with no time for going home in between.

The total mileage bill for each session amounts to about $225,000, about $50,000 for the Senate, the rest for the House of Representatives.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—Proceeds from the Firemen's Jubilee minstrel which was staged last Friday and Saturday evenings for the benefit of the local volunteer fire department amounted to several hundred dollars. Travels 47,000 Miles Never Leaves City (International News Service) SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 15.—Hugo Henne of Seattle has the distinction of having travelled 47,000 miles without going anywhere.

This unique record comes to Henne as the result of 10 years service on an express elevator in the Smith Tower. The elevator pilot makes his 1,000 foot round trip 160 times a day. In about a year he will have completed the equivalent of two trips around the world.

Henne claims to get as much satisfaction out of his daily ride as he would travelling on a train. Each floor, to him, is the same as different towns on the itinerary of a world traveler—he knows them all, their occupation, their sorrows and their happiness.

Bobbed Hair Stylish Thousand Years Ago

(International News Service) KOENIGSBERG, Nov. 15.—Bobbed hair was the fashion 1,000 years ago, and the Vikings had already invented a "zipper."

These interesting facts, together with many others have been established through the discovery near Tilsit, East Prussia, of a great Viking burial place, dating from the ninth, tenth and 11th centuries.

Thus far 80 graves have been opened, but these are not a small part of the total. The finds are unusually rich. Each man's grave contains three or four iron swords, as many as a dozen lanceheads, knives, bronze belt-buckles, stirrups and snaffles. The women's graves contain bronze bracelets, rings, necklaces, cleverly worked brooches and headbands. It was in one of these graves that the young woman with bobbed hair was found, and also "zipper," which were used in place of buttons or pins to secure garments.

Limberlost Trail To Have 100 Signs

(International News Service) BLUFFTON, Ind., Nov. 15.—Limberlost Trail extending from the estate of the late Gene Stratton-Porter, famous novelist at Rome City, Ind., through here and ending at Portland, Ind., will soon be marked by 100 signs.

Instead of an arrow to denote directions a feather will be used because of Mrs. Porter's devotion to bird life in the Limberlost. In her famous story "Freckles" she used the thought "a feather fell to earth and a soul was born."

Plans are eventually to make the Trail a beautiful drive heavily shaded and with beds of Mrs. Porter's favorite flowers along the way.

Hard Contest Is Expected Saturday

Tomorrow's Tilt Means A Lot To Rochester Grids, Who Will Battle Locals

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 15.—Tomorrow afternoon Peck Lee and his blue and white warriors will travel to Rochester, where they will clash with that eleven in one of the hardest contests of the season. Ellwood City high is considered an underdog in this battle, for Rochester has yet to taste defeat this year.

The Tubers presented a revamped eleven last Saturday and handed New Brighton its worst defeat of the season by walloping them 31-0. It will be a much different story when the Lee machine bucks up against Rochester, who has one of the best teams in the history of the school. They proved their strength recently by topping the strong Westinghouse high of Pittsburgh by the small margin of 6-0. Nevertheless, this same team played New Castle and defeated them, which proves that Rochester topped an eleven stronger than the red and black.

Being undefeated, Rochester has high hopes of winning the Beaver valley title and then on to the W. P. I. A. L. Aliquippa is the only aggregation which has not yet been beaten besides Rochester in the valley district. Harding high cannot compete in the big race, as she was beaten by New Castle, and the valley prize stands between these two elevens. This tilt will mean much to Rochester and they will no doubt enter the fray with every bit of strength that can be produced.

In spite of the fact that the Lee men are considered an underdog by most critics, they will furnish the opponent with plenty of opposition. This week Lee has been drilling the squad at a rapid pace in a final effort to prepare for this battle. The blue and white seems to be in the peak of condition and has a chance of winning, especially if a few breaks come their way.

Several important things have developed on the blue and white squad, and among the outstanding is the kicking by Barile at the kick-off and for extra points after touchdown. He has been more effective in the former department. Another combination is substituting of a good running pair, Frisk and Fanno. These two lads have proven their value in previous contests and will no doubt see action tomorrow. Pastin has also been playing a better game, while McKim is performing well in the defensive department.

A large crowd is expected to follow the blue and white to this tilt and fans look forward to real exciting and thrilling contest. There is very little doubt of this prediction being wrong.

States should be allowed to decide the prohibition question for themselves. Miss Virginia C. She blames much violation of the law on a "silly and offensive fashion of breaking the law for diversion."

State Crop Yield Beyond Expectations

(Special To The News) HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—Yields of field crops harvested during October turned out much better in general than was anticipated at the beginning of the month, according to the November 1 report of the Federal State Crop Reporting Service, Harrisburg. Little change anywhere was reported in the estimated production of fruits.

Weather And General
Rainfall, which averaged 1 1/2 inches above normal during October, was general in all parts of the State except the northwestern, the deficiency at the Erie U. S. Weather Bureau Station being over 2 inches. Precipitation was particularly heavy in the central part of the State, the Harrisburg station reporting a fall more than double the average for the month. However, there were many clear days and the month as a whole was very favorable for the harvesting of corn, potatoes and apples. Temperature was below normal for the month. The nights were cool and frosts frequent.

Although drought delayed the planting of winter grains, weather since planting has been very favorable and they are making an excellent start, though some fields have been badly washed by the heavy rains. Farm labor cannot be obtained in many sections, but for the State as a whole the supply exceeds the demand.

Corn
The weather expedited husking and silo filling; in some counties the harvest is almost finished, in others it is just beginning. The crop in general is very irregular. Many fields were not worth harvesting, while others produced a fair yield—better than expected. Nowhere is the crop considered normal. Frost caused most corn to ripen prematurely and and much of it is going into the crib in soft condition. Quality is below average.

Buckwheat
Both yield and quality are below average, but better than anticipated a month ago. Deer, frost and hail did considerable damage in some of the leading buckwheat counties.

Potatoes
With few exceptions, yields all over the State are turning out much better than expected a month ago. This year well sprayed fields have had a marked advantage over the unsprayed. Some damage from grubs and wire worms is reported. Tubers are smaller in size than usual and quality is consequently lower than last year. Digging is practically done.

Tobacco
In the binder district, the tobacco crop is curing slowly and damage in shed from frost is feared. The Lancaster County crop is curing nicely and is of good quality, but much is short in leaf. Yield, although better than was reported a month ago, is still below average.

Pasture And Grass Seeds
Pastures have been improved by the October rains. The yield of cloverseed is high, considering the season, and quality is above average. Timothy seed yielded exceptionally well, and will compare favorably in grade with other years.

Fruits
Weather has been excellent for harvesting the fruit crops. Considering the quality, which is below average, the demand and price for apples is good. A smaller percentage of the commercial crop will grade U. S. No. 1 than was anticipated a month ago. The small pear crop will be much below average in quality. The quality of Erie County grape is very good, but for the State as a whole, it is not quite so good as last year.

Scotland Yard In Plan To Curb Crime

Reforms Have Decreased Serious Crimes During Past Year

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 15.—Lord Byng's reforms at Scotland Yard have, in less than a year, decreased serious crimes in London by approaching 20 per cent.

This is particularly true of the activities of the "master" crooks. And even the "smash-and-grab" raids by automobile bandits have largely decreased—although the easiest form of crime.

The reorganization of the "Flying Squad" has been largely responsible for this improvement. It is now very difficult for the crook to know when the road will be clear for him to carry out his job, for no longer do the cops patrol given areas at given times. Instead double the number of men are on patrol at constantly-changing hours, and just twice the number of cars are available for the "Flying Squad" at all hours of the day and night.

These cars are capable of 100 miles per hour on the road and are also constantly in touch with headquarters by radio. And, the trouble, from the crook's viewpoint, is that few of them bear any resemblance to police cars. A shabby old van, driven by a tired looking man, may contain half a dozen Scotland Yard men, some of them listening intently to the Morse dot and dash sent by wireless from Scotland Yard.

No longer is it safe for the car bandit to borrow a car left in a public parking place. The moment the car is missed, its description is radioed to the patrolling Squad cars and vans. The search is taken up at once throughout the entire London area of 700 miles.

Of every twelve cars stolen recently eight have been recovered within a few hours.

Honolulu's Fairest

Miss Honolulu, otherwise known as Marjorie Baptist, has been voted the most beautiful in a contest in the Hawaiian city. She reigned over a recent radio show held in Honolulu.

One explanation given for the popularity of detective stories in the United States is that it is only in fiction that people can read of a capital crime being detected and punished.—The Toronto Daily Star.

Experts To Prepare Air Encyclopedia

Will Enable Uninitiated To Understand Theory Of Aero-dynamics

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 15.—Under the direction of Professor W. F. Durand of Stanford university, and sponsored by the Guggenheim Foundation for the Promotion of Aeronautics, an analysis of the aero dynamic theory and its related research has been started.

The work is to be prepared by such aviation experts as Prandtl, Betz, Glauert, von Karman, Kerber and Professor Melville Jones of Cambridge, England.

The analysis will be in the form of an Encyclopedia, the first of its kind, and is intended to give in a single series of volumes, a reasonably complete presentation of the modern aerodynamic theory. It will be so written as to be within the understanding of those having preparation in mathematics and mechanics represented by the curricula of the better American technical schools.

Supplementary notes which will make it intelligible to readers less well versed in mathematics are also planned.

One feature of the analysis is a 50,000 treatise on "Performance of Airplanes" prepared by Kerber, former chief of the engineering section, aeronautics branch, U. S. department of commerce, and now president of the Spartan Aircraft company.

Rugged Edges On Parcels Cause Of Many Injuries

Because minor injuries to post office employees have occurred handling metal egg containers with sharp or rugged edges, and other like packages with corners that are liable to injure the hands of employees who must handle them in transit, Postmaster E. W. Crawford asks that careful attention be given this matter by the mailing public.

Serious results have often followed injuries sustained in this manner, the postmaster declares.

Twenty Gallons Of Soup Used Daily At Junior High

Are the George Washington junior high pupils becoming soup addicts? The writer did some secret service work in the George Washington junior high school cafeteria and actually saw these pupils consume with great gusto 20 gallons of tomato soup in one day. It seems to have the same beneficial effect on their systems.

But that isn't all they eat. That is simply incidental as a part of the daily menu. There are creamed carrots, peas, baked potatoes, veal, noodle soup, fresh fruit salad, onions (to make the students), celery, grapes and then spaghetti for the more advanced pupils who have practiced first on noodle soup.

It is hard to tell how many miles of spaghetti are used in one day, or how far it would reach if laid end to end, but that is a mathematical problem we will leave to the junior high students.

Chocolate pudding, jello, maple walnut cake, are some desserts. As many as 17 Boston cream pies are used in one day and 120 pieces of cake.

The cafeteria is well equipped and well managed. A different menu is prepared for each day by Mrs. H. D. Taylor, head of the domestic science department. The majority of pupils who do not go home, buy their noon-day lunch nowadays. The average amount they spend is about 20 cents or a quarter.

The students buy, as a rule, substantial food, and do not usually spend their money for candy. Mrs. Lydia Hanna and Mrs. Pearl Mills are experts in preparing this food.

Altogether, the cafeteria system of serving meals at the George Washington junior high is a fine success.

Banking Practices May Be Revised To Prevent Swindling

Recent Defalcation Of Bank
At Flint, Michigan, Has Been Lesson

New System May Be Worked Out Making It Impossible For Employees
To Steal

(International News Service)
FLINT, Mich., Nov. 15.—Banking practices throughout the United States may be revised, it was revealed today, in order to prevent recurrence of the gigantic swindle by which officers and employees of the Union Industrial Bank here obtained almost $4,000,000.

Now that Charles S. Mott, president, has made deposits that more than meet any possible defalcations of the conspirators, and State examiners have pronounced the bank in the best condition in its history, details of the plot that was in operation for two years are becoming public.

Gilt-Edged Plan
Although old methods of abstracting bank funds had been used along with some new schemes, those in the conspiracy contend that their methods were "air tight," and could have

recent stock market crash when the guilty employees lost a fortune in bank funds. Even the crash, they say, did not make it certain that the system they had used for two years would be discovered.

Bank examiners had no possible way of discovering the defalcations, it is said. Besides keeping the bank's books in perfect order. The conspirators had look-outs at Flint hotels for months, giving warnings whenever a bank examiner came to the city.

The perfection of the plan followed is shown by the fact that the bank passed through a consolidation while hundreds of thousands of dollars of its funds were missing. A committee of Flint business men noted for thorough and careful methods passed on the bank's loans during the consolidation, and scores of forged notes passed through their hands unnoticed.

Theft, robbery, forgery and fraud were employed in taking funds, it is charged. About a dozen employees, who have been dismissed, are said to have been implicated and criminally charges are expected against them within a few days.

The new scheme devised by the conspirators consisted of mishandling funds brought to the bank by customers desiring to take advantage of the high call money interest rate prevailing on the New York Stock and Curb Exchanges. It is this sort of finance which is exercising the ingenuity of bank officials in every part of the country. Unless a way can be found to meet it, banks may stop handling call money.

Recently the return on call money had been infinitely higher than interest on sound investments. Instead of buying investments, bank customers instruct their bankers to send their money to New York for loan on call. This afforded the conspirators their opportunity.

Customers bringing money to the Industrial Bank for transmission to New York would be courteously obliged. The money was sent to New York and the customer given his receipt for it. However, the conspirators would shortly recall the cash from New York. The bank would have no record of the recall. Neither would the customer and the funds would be in the hands of the conspirators for use in their own speculations.

MEMPHIS, Tex., Nov. 15.—Construction of an airplane by a 13-year-old boy is said by Memphis residents to mark the city as the home of one of the youngest plane builders in the country.

Bobby Ragsdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ragsdale, will have his plane completed in a few weeks. He is building it in the rear of a local garage, where he has worked every day except Sunday since school closed last May.

L. E. Clark, garage employee, has aided young Ragsdale in doing the welding and metal work and James G. Hammond helped to cover the wings.

The engine develops 28 horsepower.
It was bought in Ft. Worth by Bobby.
Bobby expects to get an experienced pilot to try out the plane. "I am too young," he says. The test flight will be made either in Amarillo or Wichita Falls. "I want to learn to fly before I try this machine," the youthful builder added.

Armless Youth Is Active Athlete

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 15.—Louis
Straccione, 9, is armless.

But he can play ball, ride a bicycle or trundle a scooter as expertly as his chums.

In riding the bicycle he uses his chest to guide the bars. Using his shoulder and his chin Louis tosses a baseball almost as far as other boys and with patience and diligence can catch a ball with the aid of the same shoulder and chin.

In pitching quills Louis uses his feet. He has scored several ringers in playing this game.

Annual "Health Day" Sought For New York

(International News Service)
ALBANY, Nov. 15.—The New York State Hospital Association is sponsoring an annual "health day" for the state.

It is proposed that on this day physicians and hospitals provide free treatment for the poor.

The association will ask the 1930 legislature to declare State Health
Day a legal holiday.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED.
Armistice day was observed in the local schools by a two minute period of silence at 11 o'clock. The pupils were given a half holiday in the afternoon.

NEW ROAD ALMOST FINISHED.
The Volant-East Brook road is nearly completed. The pouring of concrete would have been finished on Wednesday had not the rain interfered, as there remains just a little over 200 feet to be poured. The road when completed will not come quite to the borough as the three miles which the contract called for brings the road a few hundred feet past the Frank Sholler home. This road, when completed, will mean much to Volant.

VOLANT NOTES.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lewis and children, of Worthington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davenport over Armistice Day.
Fred J. Reed, of West Virginia, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Reed, on Sunday.
Samuel Shaffer, of Princeton, was a business caller in town on Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Everett A. Caldwell, of New Castle, and Miss Jane Book, of Grove City, were visitors at the home of Mrs. W. J. Allen on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boozle, of Plain Grove, visited their son, Harry Boozle and family, on Sunday.

Routine Affairs Before School Board Members

Session Adjourns Earlier Than Usual On Thursday Evening

For the first time in many months, the school board concluded its work before midnight on Thursday evening, November 14, there being comparatively little to come before it except routine matters.

A warrant was ordered drawn for a payment of $150 to Riley and Riley for additional grading done on the George Washington Junior High school property over and above that called for in the contract.

Contracts were ordered made for the purchase of $865 worth of musical instruments for the Senior High school band.

A contract was authorized to be drawn with Meyer and Weller for $1200 worth of electric light bulbs, at their price of 27 per cent and two per cent off in such a lot.

Mrs. Rose M. Nothdurft and Attorney Roy W. Hazen were appointed on a committee to confer with some of the organizations who are willing to plant trees on the George Washington Junior high school grounds.

Twelve, 12-inch steel chairs, and twenty-four 14-inch steel chairs were ordered from A. L. Lockman for the West Side kindergarten.

Three old style gas engines which have not been used for years in the school system here were ordered sold to the Keystone Pipe and Supply company of Butler, Pa., for $150.

Warrants were ordered drawn for $2150 for A. C. Lusk for installation of smoke screens in the Lawrence and Lincoln and Garfield schools, and $550 to Harry M. Wirsing, architect, for work done in connection with the installation.

Superintendent of Building and Grounds S. G. Ligo, reported that he could buy a 22 inch gasoline lawn mower which had been used but three times and was originally worth about $300 for $125. It was ordered bought.

Upon the recommendation of Mr. Ligo, the ash hoist in the North street school will be changed so that the ashes can be lifted and dumped into the truck with one operation. The additional parts will cost about $140. Ten door closers were ordered bought from C. Ed. Smith Hardware company at a cost of $143.

The seasonal rainfall, predicts George F. McEwan, physical oceanographer, will be about four inches short of normal.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
1871—Russia Plans A Separate Peace.

TWO WEEKS AFTER THE BOLSHEVIST REVOLUTION, LEON TROTSKY, AS MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT, SENT NOTES TO ALL THE WARRING NATIONS, PROPOSING THAT AN INTERNATIONAL PEACE CONFERENCE BE HELD WITH A VIEW TO ENDING THE WAR AT ONCE. THERE WAS NO RESPONSE TO THIS PROPOSAL.

THE RUSSIANS THEN PROCEEDED WITH PLANS FOR A SEPARATE PEACE. TO JUSTIFY THIS DEFECTION OF RUSSIA'S ALLIES, THEY PUBLISHED CERTAIN SECRET TREATIES BETWEEN RUSSIA AND OTHER NATIONS, WHICH HAD COME TO LIGHT WHEN THE BOLSHEVISTS OPENED THE IMPERIAL ARCHIVES. THESE DOCUMENTS DISCLOSED THE SELFISH AIMS OF THE OLD-SCHOOL DIPLOMATS.

TROTSKY ISSUED ORDERS TO THE RUSSIAN FORCES TO CEASE FIGHTING, AND SENT INSTRUCTIONS TO GENERAL DUKHONIN, THE RUSSIAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, AT THE FRONT, TO MAKE A PROPOSAL TO THE GERMANS FOR AN ARMISTICE. DUKHONIN DELAYED. HIS TARDINESS WAS CONSIDERED DISOBEDIENCE, AND ANOTHER GENERAL WAS SENT TO TAKE HIS PLACE.

THE SOLDIERS AT THE FRONT, WHO WERE EAGER TO RETURN TO THEIR HOMES, WERE TOLD THAT DUKHONIN HAD TRIED TO BLOCK THE PEACE MOVEMENT. THEY WERE SO ENRAGED BY THIS NEWS THAT, WHEN THE DEPOSED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF WAS BOARDING A TRAIN FOR PETROGRAD, THEY SUDDENLY ATTACKED AND MURDERED HIM, TOGETHER WITH OFFICERS OF THE GENERAL STAFF.

Time of Game—2:30 O'Clock.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

YES of the scholastic sport world of Western Pennsylvania will be trained on Franklin Field this city, Saturday afternoon.

New Castle High School football team engages Greensburg High School in a game that has all the earmarks of a championship struggle. The turnstiles will click merrily as fans in countless hundreds will jam their way into the stadium. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

The Brown Tornado of Greensburg has yet to be stopped. Eight times they have been called on to seek out a victory, and they have responded nobly. The powerful New Castle High machine may be the one to turn the trick.

A gridiron dish that should satisfy the most fastidious fan will be served at the stadium. Two highly trained and eager schoolboy elevens are in the "pink" today waiting the gong.

Hope For Good Weather. With a break in the weather, the local field should be packed to the limit tomorrow. Greensburg is sending about 2,000 fans here by special train and automobiles. The Greensburg High band will be here, and New Castle's own magnificent band will be out there "totting for victory." The setting is perfect, with the exception of the uncertainty of the elements.

The Greensburg fans are all "whooping" up over this contest here. Naturally they would be. If Greensburg High can hurdle the high barrier of the Bridenbaugh clan they can go on gracefully in the direction of the W. P. I. A. L. title. They are asking nothing. Last year New Castle took a 31 to 2 victory at Greensburg. Revenge is sweet no matter how old it is. The locals are determined to repeat the dose. Here's hoping.

Locals Are Eager. Where Charleroi, Wilkensburg, New Kensington and Connellsville have failed this year, New Castle hopes to come through. None of the New Castle opponents this year has tested the ability of the locals to the utmost. True, Westinghouse took a 20 to 13 victory here, but they caught the locals at a "let-down" period. Westinghouse couldn't lick New Castle tomorrow.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh has the New Castle team as near perfection as is possible to have them. Every man is keen and eager for the fray. The forward passing attack has been made safe. McAuley, Hannon, Thomas and Alexander are in good condition, and when this quartet is right, it is a hard combination to beat.

The Greensburg team will not outweigh New Castle. The Greensburg line averages 164 pounds and the backfield tips the scales at the same weight. New Castle will run 168 as a team. The locals have a heavier line than they do backfield.

New Castle Line Is Good. There has not been an opposing line this year that has out-charged the locals, not even South High Youngstown or Westinghouse. New Castle had 16 first downs to eight for South, and 15 to 3 in the Westinghouse game. The New Castle line is a great one. The boys are rather green at the game in the number of years.

Special Features For Game With Greensburg

Franklin Field will be gaily decorated for the New Castle-Greensburg football game Saturday.

Action relative to this feature of the game was taken by the Student Council at Senior High. The stadium will be bedecked in the red and black colors of New Castle, and also the Brown and White of Greensburg.

The locals are leaving nothing undone to make the first visit of a Greensburg team to New Castle a memorable occasion. Greensburg will send around 2,000 fans to New Castle. Upon entering the stadium tomorrow you will be greeted with many bright colors.

The cheer-leaders at Senior High have also worked out an innovation for tomorrow. The students will be arranged so that huge human letters can be formed at the back and call of the cheer leaders.

This practice is carried out quite extensively by the colleges of the country. It is something new for high schools, but New Castle High has a habit of starting most everything, and always first with the latest.

The New Castle High and Greensburg High bands will be guests at the game. The music should be interesting. Greensburg has a good band as evidenced last year in the game at Greensburg. New Castle High School has one of the finest schoolboy bands in this section of the country.

The Greensburg special train is due to arrive in New Castle about 11:25 o'clock Saturday noon. The New Castle High band is arranging to meet the train and help escort the Greensburg delegation of fans and football players to The Castleton which will be the headquarters of the Greensburg team and fans, during their stay in this city.

The Greensburg special train leaves New Castle tomorrow night about 8 o'clock according to word from the Pennsy officials.

The class winner will receive basketball emblem. Miss Sara McGoun, the new physical director at the high school, is at the head of the league. The new coach believes that she will be able to look over the floor season through this league. In the first game teams "Shorty" Rodgers proved the outstanding star for the losers while Raney, Shriver and Anderson were the best for the winners. In the second game of the afternoon Helen Kraft and Kevinne starred for the Sophomore B team while Updegraff proved the best for the losers.

Following is the result of other games played:

Sophomore A's 3, Sophomore B's 9
Junior A's 8, Junior B's 9
Senior A's 8, Senior B's 15
Junior A's 6, Junior B's 14
Two more games will be played tonight.

It was announced that burial would follow in a cemetery in Brooklyn, where McGinnity had lived during the last two years with his sister. Previously it was reported the body might be shipped to McAlester, Okla. McGinnity's home town, near where he made his debut as a sandlot pitcher many years ago. His wife is buried there.

Among those expected to attend the services is John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, who characterized the "iron man" as "a great fellow and the hardest working pitcher I ever had on my ball club."

Soph B, Senior A Win Floor Games

Soph B Trim Senior B And Senior A Win Over Junior A In High School League

On Thursday afternoon in the senior high school the Senior A basketball team defeated the Junior A team 11-7 and the Sophomore B lasses trounced the Senior B maidens 19-8.

Last Nights Fights

AT PHILADELPHIA—Paulie Walker, Trenton N. J., won on Technical knockout over Jack Gallagher, Philadelphia, in sixth round of ten round bout.

AT DULUTH—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York, knocked out Angelo Puglisi, Duluth, in seventh round of ten round bout.

New Castle Boosters Organize Floor Team

At a recent meeting at the Y. M. C. A. the former Lincoln Five and Rick-Overland basketball teams, decided to combine forces this year, and organize a team known as the "New Castle Boosters."

A fast team is planned on for the 1929-30 season, with many of the best known basketball players in New Castle participating. The following attended the initial meeting: Lindy Bruce, Francis Chle, Walter "Neddy" McGrath, Mike Kulich, Johnny Hill, Sid Lockley, Elroy Lockley, Bruce Alexander, Bruce Franklin, Arnold "Fritz" Frazer, Tony Tino, and Walter Hub Hart. Tino is the business manager of the team. Hart and one other prominent merchant here will sponsor the team.

The idea of this team is to Boost New Castle in other cities in which they will play. A fine schedule is being arranged by Tino. New uniforms have been purchased for the players. They will be on display in a down-town store window in a few days.

Frazer Is Coach

Arnold "Fritz" Frazer has been elected as coach of the team. Frazer is an old-time basketball and mushball star in New Castle, and is generally recognized despite his advanced age as one of the best floormen in this part of the country. Under the careful tutelage of Frazer the New Castle Boosters should thrive.

The Boosters will play their first game of the season at the Y. M. C. A. on Thanksgiving night, at 8:30 o'clock, by meeting the Harry Offutt team of Butler. Offutt is a former New Castle High star and is said to have a clever basketball team in Butler.

The Boosters have been practicing at the "Y" for the past six weeks and will be in shape for the opening game. A practice session has been called for 8 to 9 o'clock tonight, and all players are asked to be present.

Crimson Eleven Looks For Battle

Grove City College Football Team Plays At Huntington W. Va.

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Crimson squad will be given a short workout early this afternoon, just before boarding a bus for the first leg of the trip to Huntington, W. Va., to meet Marshall College Saturday afternoon. The squad will leave at 3:30 for Pittsburgh, from where they will continue the trip by train.

Coach Barry will have his entire squad ready for the West Virginians. It is planned to start Munson at fullback, Waleski, and Kammer at the halves, and Pusch at quarter. Captain Rankin will be at one end and Shiring will be found at the other terminal. This line-up started the early games on the schedule and has been broken up lately by injuries.

DeCarbo Will Start For Duquesne Team

Former New Castle High Star Will Play With "Dukes" Against Titans

Not that Coach Elmer Layden underestimates the ability of the Westminister college football team to give the Duquesne team a real tussle, but rather adopting a system that he learned at Notre Dame, he will start his second string players this evening in the night game at Forbes field.

There is no doubt but what the first team will be in the game possibly in the first period if Westminister opens up with their clever offensive drive.

In the Duquesne lineup tonight will be found "Nickie" DeCarbo former New Castle high star who is slated to hold down left guard. Glenn Thomas also a New Castle high star will likely see action tonight. Thomas is a center.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Arthur Flynn wants no part of Emmet Rocco, according to the latest reports received from Boston, and Marjory Gallagher, a young heavyweight, will be given the assignment. Last week Em' put the kayo buzz on Tom Kirby at Cleveland.

Romeo Facelli says he hopes to flatten Joey Katsch, Monday evening at Bill Jolly's punch bowl. If Romeo snaps into his work aggressively Joey will meet him half way and the fans will see a whirl that will keep 'em guessing.

Talking of upsets, Maxie Strub was the berries at Erie and here yet Frankie LeFay stepped out and outpointed Maxie. No one would imagine that the New York state lad would turn the trick but he did.

Garback, fullback at Allegheny, is reported to have recovered from injuries and may be in the lineup when Allegheny and Waynesburg clash Saturday at Meadville.

Westminster and Duquesne will play before a large crowd tonight at Pittsburgh. The Dukes have not yet suffered a defeat.

Class Games At Washington Hi

The 9-B2 team lost to the 8-B3 team 19 to 11 in a class league game at the George Washington Junior High school on Thursday afternoon.

The 8-B3 team handed the 8-A2 team a drubbing 31 to 12.

Westminster Plays Duquesne Tonight

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Westminster College football team went to Pittsburgh this afternoon for the "moonlight" game with Duquesne University at Forbes Field tonight. A squad of 24 men, Coaches "Dike" Beede, "Johnny" Lawther, and "Jiggs" Havrilla, Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald, student managers, and trainer Jack Hulme will have headquarters at Webster Hall while in the city.

The Titans have been able to get in five practice sessions this week, holding drills on the home field every afternoon and working in one night drill at the Benjamin Franklin junior high stadium at New Castle Wednesday night. Only one accident has marred the drills of the week. On Tuesday afternoon, Emmett Tweedy, Forest Hills, half, collided in practice and both received injuries which kept them out of Wednesday's night's drill. It is thought, however, that both men will be ready to go tonight.

The Dukes have a decided advantage in tonight's game but followers of the Titans believe that the blue and white will rise to new heights in the evening game and provide the Dukes with their best home competition of the year. The fact that the Dukes have already played one night game, the fact that the Bluffmen wear white jerseys and white helmets, and the fact that the contest is at the home grid of the Dukes all give the Laydenmen a decided edge. But the fact that the Titans are the underdogs with nothing to lose and everything to gain may also enter into the contest and provide some extra fireworks.

Last year the U. P. outfit stood its ground against the onslaught of three or four Duke teams until the fourth quarter. With the score standing 6-6 as the last period started, the Titans weakened because of lack of substitutions and fell 20-6. Tonight, however, there will be line substitutes of ability to relieve the regulars, so the battle should be a close one.

Westminster will depend upon Paul Campbell, former Westinghouse high star; Ben Haldy, Forest Hills; Harry Michaels, Turtle Creek; Adrian Dible, Verona; John Hall, Youngstown, O.; James Perrin, Avella; Bert Tate, West Middlesex; Robert Deagle, Sharpville; and Samuel Merriman, Turtle Creek, eight backs, to carry the running attack.

Tackles available are: Dombrowski, Elizabeth; Armour, Sharon; Dishons, Johnstown; and Rehfus, Sandusky. O. Guards who may see action are, Fuller, Erie; Sweet, Erie; Morrison, Elizabeth; Cleland, Portersville; and Cebula, Campbell. Ends are Frack, Oakmont; Tweedy, Turtle Creek; Brownlee, Lock Haven; and Yourd, Oakmont.

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—The local high school football team will meet West Middlesex on the college field today. This will be the last home game of the season. Coach Karsten expects a victory for the local boys at this game. The final game of the season will be played at Mercer in the near future.

Recent scrimmages with picked teams have put the team in splendid condition, and a victory in the next two games will not surprise those who have observed their progress.

In the game tomorrow, the following men will be in the lineup: L. E. Spears; L. T. Brownlee; L. G. R. Klumph; C. Gilliland; R. G. R. McCrumb; R. T. Myers; R. E. C. McCrumb; Q. B. White; R. H. Neal; F. B. Hartwell (captain); and L. H. P. Klumph.

Senator Reed thinks the tariff bill is dead. It isn't that. Senator. They all smell that way.

Tobias And Peters Complete Training

Two Of Nation's Best Flyweights Romp At Jolly Bowl Monday

ROMEO AND KATKISH TO BOX SEMI-FINAL

Ernie Peters of Chicago and Phil Tobias of New York, two of the best flyweights in the world will end heavy training today for their 10 round return battle at Jolly bowl, Monday night. Peters has been cowering at Chicago and Tobias has been going through the paces at New York.

After today boxing will be taboo until they step into the ring as neither would take a chance with a damaged optic or injured hand and either is apt to happen during training. They will run, shadowbox, skip rope, punch bags and keep their muscles pliable Saturday and will arrive here Sunday.

They have fought all of the best flyweights in the world and there are many who would wager that Tobias can beat any flyweight and those who like Peters claim he is now at his peak and can do the same thing. Tobias was kept out of the Madison Square tournament but Peters was a participant.

Discriminating Charge
Just why Tobias was not included has not been explained satisfactorily while 9,000 fans who seen Peters fight Dark Cloud Bradley took exception the decision which was returned against him. All of the writers present said the decision was unpopular.

Romeo Pacelli will fight Joey Katwisch, probably the best 126 pounder in Pittsburgh. Romeo is training here and Katkish at Pittsburgh. Paul Balint, Pittsburgh, will appear here again with Bud Hardy of Beaver Falls as an opponent.

Johnny Jennings will get back in ring "harness" to take on Tommy Howell of Cleveland and perhaps the best opening bout that has even been staged in the bowl with flash forth when Larry Gaston of Cleveland and Jim McVey, Akron, clash at 165. They are colored boys and they are as good as semi-finalists.

Notre Dame Is Favorite Over Southern Cal.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Bank notes as well as opinions today favored Notre Dame to whip Southern California in the intercollegiate game here tomorrow.

Notre Dame ruled a 7 to 5 favorite in most of the wagering. Some of the more staunch supporters of the Irish championship hopes were willing to wager 3 to 2 on a Notre Dame victory.

The jingo is funny. He wants more ships to establish parity and yet contends that one gob can lick three of any other race.

"Go—ing—Go—ing—"

For many years, head coaches have personified their football teams as generals do their armies. Not all coaches win such distinction, of course; but the great ones do. "Pop" Warner personifies Stanford; Knute Rockne, Notre Dame; Alonzo Stag, Chicago; "Bob" Zuppke, Illinois, and "Biff" Jones, West Point. Mention of the latter prompts thoughts on the transience of coaches for Capt. Jones is to be transferred to Fort Sill at the end of this season, resigning as the Army's coach. This change is not due to any fault with Biff's coaching. It is simply in accord with the military policy of transfers from post to post.

Capt. Jones will be succeeded by his able assistant, Major Ralph Sasse who played end for Army in brilliant fashion some years ago. Unlike in the case of Biff Jones' resignation, most coaches are induced or forced to quit when they fail to produce winning teams. Early this season several were reputed to be on the "last year" skids and one or two have resigned already.

Major Frank W. Cavanaugh, for example, hard-boiled and keen-minded grid mentor of Fordham, was high on that "going" list prior to the Ram's surprising 26-0 defeat of New York university. Since then, the Maroon cry has been to "keep Cav," who in his third season with Fordham has produced a first-class grid outfit which is expected to reach its full power next season.

Arnold Horween at Harvard was also conspicuous on that "going" list until that 20-20 tie with Army revealed that this former star back was really a competent coach. Another victory over Yale and strong efforts will be made to retain him. Horween, however, is likely to bequeath his job next year to his friend and assistant, the famous Eddie Casey.

Enoch W. Bagshaw, for nine years coach at the University of Washington, resigned recently. He will leave his post at the end of this season. Repeated defeats, stirring student and alumni opposition, forced Bagshaw out.

Incidentally, it will be interesting to note what effect that Carnegie Foundation football report will have on the "going" list of coaches. That may result in some satirical situations with some coaches being "fired" for not getting star players, while others meet a like fate for doing just that in old familiar fashion!

The forward pass was developed to open up play at a time when mass formations and mass plays were causing a cry throughout the nation for the abolition of football. It is perfectly permissible for a player at any time to pass or hand the ball to the rear, that is, toward his own goal line, but if he undertakes to either pass or hand the ball toward his opponents goal line, it must be classified as a forward pass and come under certain restrictions.

In the first place, no player of the team which did not put the ball in play by scrimmage, is permitted to make a forward pass. A player of the side which did put the ball in play from scrimmage may make a forward pass but at the time he makes the pass must be at least five yards back of the line of scrimmage. It is only permissible to make a forward pass from each scrimmage. This must not be confused with backward passes, as a number of backward passes may be made from one scrimmage. Should the ball be passed forward and strike the ground on the field of play either before or after having been touched by an eligible player of either side, the pass is considered as incomplete and brought back to the former point and put in play by scrimmage with a loss of one down. Should such an incomplete forward pass occur more than once in a series of four downs, a five-yard penalty shall be inflicted as well as the loss of down. On the fourth down, however, the five-yard penalty is dispensed with, due to the loss of the possession of the ball. If the ball having been passed forward from the field of play is grounded in the end zone, it shall be given to the opponents as a touchback, irregardless of the down. Should the ball be legally passed forward, it may only be caught by those men playing on the ends of the line, or those men one yard or more back of the line of scrimmage. From this, it can be seen that a player who is more than one foot back of the line of scrimmage is ineligible to receive a forward pass, no matter what position he is playing. Should one of the players who is ineligible touch the ball or catch it, the pass shall not be considered as completed. The penalty for an ineligible man touching the ball is the loss of the ball to the opponents at the spot of the preceding down. Any player of the passing side becomes eligible to receive the pass should the ball be touched in going through the air by a member of the defensive team. Even an eligible player who has gone out of bounds during the play and in that way becomes ineligible, will become eligible again should the ball be touched in the manner above described. Should a member of the passing team legally touch the ball, which has been passed forward, he only of his side may recover it or attempt to recover it, until it has touched an opponent.

Q. On a try for field goal, should the ball, after being kicked, strike the ground and then go over the goal posts, will this count as a field goal?

A. No. A field goal shall not count, should the ball, after having been kicked, strike either the ground or a member of the opponents side.

Q. In case a punt is blocked behind the line of scrimmage and goes out of bounds on the side line before anyone touches it, whose ball is it?

A. If any kicked ball, unless actually caught by a player, then fumbled, other than a kick-off, goes out of bounds before crossing either goal line, it shall belong to the receiving side where it goes out of bounds.

A. If any kicked ball, unless actually caught by a player, then fumbled, other than a kick-off, goes out of bounds before crossing either goal line, it shall belong to the receiving side where it goes out of bounds.

Few Catch Colds At Football Games

Heavy Blankets And Clothes Not Needed, Doctor Asserts

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—A "shot" of liquor, heavy underwear and petticoats are absolute as preventatives for colds in football stands and bleachers, according to Dr. William F. King, Indiana State health officer.

"Few people catch colds at football games," Dr. King said. "They catch them in crowded, stuffy places, such as banquet halls, their own homes, street cars, meetings and offices."

"At a football game, a person's resistance to sickness is at the highest point. But one should keep fairly dry and wear sufficient clothing."

"The old idea that colds were contracted in the open air and that going to a football game was the worst thing possible on a bad day is bosh."

"Extra red flannel underwear, petticoats and a quart of whiskey used to be taken along to a football game, but physicians now believe that extra clothing is unnecessary and legislators have made the whiskey unnecessary."

Yankee Owners Start Thinking About Babe Ruth

Star Slugger Is Said To Be Asking For $85,000 Contract For Next Year

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Col. Jacob Ruppert and Edward G. Barrow were enroute to French Lick today for a conference in seclusion before signing on Babe Ruth for a new contract.

It is understood here that the slugger's new contract would be made out for only one season, even if it necessitated a larger payment than the Babe has been demanding for a two-year contract. Babe has made it known he is asking $85,000 for one-year contract, and $75,000 for a two-year document.

Ruth has just completed his three year contract under which he netted $70,000 per season.

THE BEST GUARANTEE OF YOUR MONEY'S WORTH
The self-interest of the man who sells you a used car is a sure guide to value. If he is the "here-today-and-gone-tomorrow" type then his interest is in immediate profit. His business viewpoint is quite likely to be: "Let the buyer beware."
But if the man from whom you buy is a Buick dealer then you have the best possible guarantee of your money's worth.
For we have a reputation at stake. To stay in business we need satisfied customers. And satisfied customers are won only by honest value.
When we sell you a used car we confidently look forward to the time when you will buy another and, after that, still another, or perhaps a new Buick or Marquette you will return to us to give you good, honest value every time.
We like to think that we would do this anyway, but the fact remains that self-interest compels us to do it. See our Used Cars first!

THE BEST GUARANTEE OF YOUR MONEY'S WORTH
The self-interest of the man who sells you a used car is a sure guide to value. If he is the "here-today-and-gone-tomorrow" type then his interest is in immediate profit. His business viewpoint is quite likely to be: "Let the buyer beware."

But if the man from whom you buy is a Buick dealer then you have the best possible guarantee of your money's worth.
For we have a reputation at stake. To stay in business we need satisfied customers. And satisfied customers are won only by honest value.

When we sell you a used car we confidently look forward to the time when you will buy another and, after that, still another, or perhaps a new Buick or Marquette you will return to us to give you good, honest value every time.

We like to think that we would do this anyway, but the fact remains that self-interest compels us to do it. See our Used Cars first!

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks Show Moderate Gains In Early Hours

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—All the elements of a bull market were present when the opening gong on the stock exchange sounded today. Though prices for the leading stocks showed moderate gains at the opening, there was no wild scramble for speculative shares, but a gradual advance in values during the first half hour. The volume of trading in that period was 1,128,000 shares, about 30 per cent under the last three sessions, with a considerable increase in cash investment buying.

Though the brokerage houses were flooded with buying orders for the best known stocks, they were evenly matched by a large volume of profit-taking by the professionals. For that reason many of the active stocks showed little or no gains in the first period, but marched through steadily to higher price levels in the second hour. United States Steel, which opened at 162, pushed ahead to 164 1-2; American Tel and Tel, opening at 216 3-4, advanced to 221; General Electric moved up from 194 to 197; Anaconda Copper, starting the day at 74 7-8, rose to 81 1-2 in heavy trading.

The whole list moved into higher price ground in the second hour, under the stimulus of short coverings and excellent investment buying.

Japan To Build Great Airport Near Yokohama

TOKYO, Nov. 15.—The Ministry of Communications is working actively on plans for the construction of a large airport between Tokyo and Yokohama which will have facilities for caring for airplanes equal to those in any country of the world, according to vernacular papers.

Since an appropriation of ¥3,300,000 was made by the last session of the diet for this purpose, the authorities have drawn up preliminary plans and are ready to purchase the land for the project.

It is revealed that the airport will be located along the seashore almost exactly half way between Tokyo and Yokohama. Area of land to be purchased is approximately 133 acres.

What the government hopes to pay for it is, of course, not revealed.

When the Hamaguchi cabinet came into power in July with its policies of retrenchment, ¥300,000 was taken from the appropriation for the airport. The Ministry and Communications, however, did not hesitate in the plans which were under way and if necessary will continue the construction until the funds run out, hoping for additional money at a future date.

The airport will be on Tokyo Bay. Rail communications will also be nearly perfect as there are private electric lines running from the main government line to the seashore. Those who have gone out to Kasumigaura or Teachikawa, the two biggest airports near Tokyo at present, know what a convenience it will be to have one near at hand.

Among the features of the new airport will be several large airplane hangars and specially prepared landing places both for airplanes and seaplanes. The preliminary plans do not include the erections of a zeppelin hangar although it is expected that this will be included when additional funds are obtained.

The airport will be under the Ministry of Communications and will be used by the Army, Navy and such private individuals and companies as comply with government air regulations.
